Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak.

Early in the season, you are going to experience some inconvenience because of construction, but the new facilities will be a great addition for the entire University. We are continuing our commitment to make improvements and innovations which will add to your enjoyment of game day at Memorial Stadium.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

Nebraska returns home for the first time in almost a month as the Huskers take on Texas A&M this afternoon in a regionally-televised contest.

The Huskers, ranked ninth in both the AP and Coaches poll this week, enter today's contest with a 7-1 record and a 4-1 mark in the Big 12, while the Aggies, ranked 18th by AP and 21st by the Coaches, come to Lincoln with a 6-2 record, including a 3-2 mark in conference play.

Today's matchup will go a long way in determining what teams are in the Big 12 Championship game in San Antonio one month from now. In the North Division, the Huskers are tied with Colorado, one game behind Kansas State. NU controls its own destiny, as the Huskers still face the Wildcats (Nov. 13 in Lincoln) and Buffaloes (Nov. 26 in Boulder) in their final two contests. Texas A&M, which is tied with Texas Tech with a 3-2 conference record, is one game behind South Division leader Texas, but the Longhorns must travel to College Station later this month.

Last season, Texas A&M ended NU's 19-game winning streak and 40-game conference regular-season winning streak with a 28-21 victory over the second-ranked Huskers in College Station. A&M, which had lost five straight to Nebraska dating back to 1955, opened a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and after the Huskers tied the game at 7-all, the Aggies scored late in the first half to lead 14-7 at intermission. Two third-quarter Aggie TDs led to a 28-7 advantage as A&M held off a furious NU fourth-quarter rally. Statistically, the game was very even, with A&M holding a 352-345 edge in total yards. Dante Hall rushed for 113 yards and Ja'Mar Toombs added 110 for the Aggies. For Nebraska, split end Matt Davison had a career-high 10 catches for a school-record 167 yards and Bobby Newcombe accounted for 260 yards of total offense on a school-record 50 attempts.

Last week, the Huskers relied on a pair of Newcombe touchdowns to hold off a stubborn Kansas team, 24-17, in Lawrence. The Huskers trailed 9-0 before a Josh Brown field goal and an 86-yard punt return by Newcombe gave NU a 10-9 advantage. Nebraska, which has defeated KU 31 straight times dating back to 1968, extended the lead to 17-9 on an Eric Crouch 8-yard touchdown run before KU tied the score at 17-all on a Dylan Smith to Mike Chandler 77-yard touchdown pass and subsequent two-point conversion. Crouch, who completed 11-of-20 for 193 yards, connected with Newcombe on a 49-yard touchdown pass with 3:24 remaining to give the Huskers the margin of victory. A junior from Albuquerque N.M., Newcombe set career bests with four catches for 88 yards, and totaled 200 all-purpose yards against the Jayhawks in earning Big 12 Specialty Player-of-the-Week honors. I-back Correll Buckhalter carried 22 times for 116 yards, while Davison caught a season-high six passes for 108 yards, his second career 100-yard performance. Defensively, cornerback Keyuo Craver led NU with 10 tackles, while Carlos Polk added nine tackles, including a 10-yard sack. The Huskers recorded five sacks on the afternoon and now have 28 on the season. All-America candidate Mike Brown made seven stops and intercepted his second pass of the season. The win against KU assured the Huskers of a 38th consecutive winning season, a streak that is tied with Alabama (1911-50) for second all-time.

The defending Big 12 Champions, Texas A&M has struggled on the road recently, losing at Texas Tech and at Oklahoma before rebounding to defeat Oklahoma State, 21-3, at home last Saturday. In the win over OSU, quarterback Randy McCown threw for 242 yards and a pair of touchdown passes to Matt Bumgardner to lead the Aggies to victory. A&M held the Cowboys to just three points and 260 yards of total offense in the win.

On offense, the Aggies feature a balanced attack, rushing for 153 yards per game and throwing for 255 more. Toombs leads the Aggies' ground attack with 340 yards and four touchdowns on the season, while tailback Eric Bernard has 292 yards and averages better than five yards per carry. The A&M offense is triggered by quarterback Randy McCown, who has completed 121 of 222 passes for 1,901 yards and 12 touchdowns. Chris Taylor is the Aggies' big-play receiver, hauling in a team-best 29 catches for 552 yards and four touchdowns.

On the defensive side of the ball, Texas A&M is one of the league's strongest teams. The Aggies rank 10th nationally in rushing defense (89.8 ypg), 12th in total defense (295.0 ypg) and 17th in scoring defense, allowing 17.6 points per contest. Defensive back Brandon Jennings leads A&M with 68 tackles and has a pair of interceptions.

Texas A&M has a strong special teams unit with All-America punter Shane Lechler, who leads the Big 12 with a 45.4 punting average, just ahead of Husker punter Dan Hadenfeldt's average of 45.0. Place-kicker Terence Kitchens has made 15-of-21 field goals on the season, including a 62-yard effort against Southern Miss.

This Week in Husker Athletics

◆ The 13th-ranked Husker volleyball team will also play host to Texas A&M this evening at the Nebraska Coliseum, beginning at 7 p.m. NU is 17-5 on the season and 9-3 in the Big 12, one game behind Texas entering this week's matches. Last weekend, the Huskers swept both Texas Tech and Big 12 co-leader Kansas State.

◆ The Nebraska men's basketball team opens exhibition play this Wednesday, Nov. 10, as the Huskers face the Double Pump All-Stars at the Devaney Center, beginning at 7:20 p.m.

◆ The Husker wrestling team opens up the 1999-2000 season this Friday, Nov. 12, as the seventh-ranked Huskers take on Lock Haven at the Devaney Center, beginning at 7 p.m. All-Americans Bryan Snyder and Brad Vering lead a Husker team that finished 17-6 last season and placed 15th at the NCAA Championships.

◆ Next week's game against Kansas State has been scheduled for 2:35 p.m. and will be televised regionally by ABC.

◆ A special thank you to all the fans who supported today's "Kick in a Can to Fight Hunger" food drive that benefitted the Lincoln and Omaha Food Banks.

A Message from Chancellor James Moeser

We are standouts in at least two areas. First, the integration of content from Arts and Sciences with pedagogy, the art of teaching. The model here is our nationally recognized math-science education program. The second area is the Compact with Nebraska, our commitment to listen to schools to make sure that the students we send them are prepared to teach.

Schools tell us that they want to hire Nebraska graduates because their skill level is beyond the norm for most beginning teachers. This is due to intensive in-the-class room experience that each student has before graduating.

Here is other evidence of our success:

- A selective admissions process ensures that only highly qualified students

Through its "Compact with Nebraska," Teachers College is working on a method to identify how well K-12 students are taught by its graduates. Teachers College is the first teacher education program in the country to commit to producing such evidence.

And because our graduates meet the standards set by the International Society for Technology and Education, we know our students receive strong support for the use of technology in education.

Teachers College also is working to help alleviate a shortage of teachers by introducing the Accelerated Post-baccalaureate Certification Program, in which a person with a bachelor's degree in English, mathematics, modern foreign languages or one of the sciences can

THE UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska-Lincoln is among national leaders in preparing students for the profession of teaching. That is the conclusion I draw from a national report issued in late October regarding the status of teacher preparation at the nation's colleges and universities.

The report, issued by the American Council on Education and titled "To Touch the Future—Transforming the Way Teachers Are Taught" was addressed to institutions with teacher education programs. In essence, the report said: shape up those programs or close them down. NU President L. Dennis Smith was one of 36 university presidents and administrators who drafted the report.

Among its recommendations was that colleges must move teacher education higher on the national agenda. Colleges must clarify the connection between the education of teachers and the mission of the institution, the report said. Rigorous and ongoing quality reviews, coordination with arts and sciences faculty to ensure that teachers know content as well as pedagogy, and the monitoring of graduates to ensure their efficacy also were among the recommendations.

Nebraskans can be proud that our Teachers College programs are in fine shape, and are, in fact, models of reform.

who are dedicated to teaching are admitted to the program.

- Increased emphasis on content means that teachers know their subject matter. For example, elementary education majors at Nebraska take three math courses, while most universities require just one. Secondary education majors will graduate with as many credits in their area of study as comparable majors in the College of Arts and Sciences.
- Coursework and practicum experiences prepare students to work effectively with the great diversity of students they will teach in the schools after graduation.

qualify for Nebraska teacher certification in as little as 11 months.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln sets the mark for what a university needs to do. I would give our teacher education program an A-minus – and the minus is only because I'm a tough grader and I always want to leave room for improvement.

Inspiration Inspires Linebacker's Efforts

By Shannon Heffelfinger

He was the one who motivated Ortiz to evolve from a rebellious first-year player in 1995 to a mature, fifth-year leader for the Nebraska football team in 1999. He inspired Ortiz to strive for something better than his best. He pushed Ortiz to graduate in August with a bachelor of science degree in sociology.

Ortiz's fan does have his flaws. He isn't quite sure what position Ortiz, a Sam linebacker, plays. And he can't quite say, "Nebraska" yet.

But Ortiz can overlook those things. After all, Ortiz's biggest fan is only 3-years old.

From his mother's home in Waterbury, Conn., Tony Ortiz Jr. watches every move his dad makes on the football field. And knowing that his son is constantly watching and learning from dad has impacted Ortiz's every decision.

"My son has changed my life tremendously," Ortiz said. "He looks up to me. I am his idol. I can't let him down. He is the apple of my eye, and I need to show him that you can rise up from circumstances that aren't the greatest and still succeed."

Ortiz has found success at Nebraska, but his search wasn't easy. The son of Efrain and Petra Ortiz, Tony was born in the South Bronx, N.Y., where he spent most of his childhood. Ortiz said the schools weren't the greatest. The streets weren't clean, and the area wasn't always safe.

"I'm just glad that my son isn't growing up there," Ortiz said.

Ortiz's family later moved to Waterbury, where he flourished as a prep football star at Crosby High School. USA Today named Ortiz a second-team All-America linebacker, and SuperPrep listed him as the No. 1 linebacker prospect in the nation.

The 6-foot-1, 220-pound Ortiz earned All-America honors from Parade Magazine and Bluechip Illustrated as well.

With national publications recognizing Ortiz left and right, he knew a college scholarship would be available. But going to college was a big step for Ortiz. While both his parents had achieved success in their businesses, no one in his immediate family had ever graduated from college.

A football scholarship provided Ortiz with the added incentive that he needed. He visited Penn State and Clemson before choosing Nebraska.

"My parents were very focused on my academics," Ortiz said. "They really wanted me to go to college. When I realized that I wanted it, too, they sat me down and we figured out what steps I would need to take. We talked about the challenges I would face. They let me know that they would always support me."

After graduating from high school in the spring of 1995, Ortiz knew challenges awaited him at Nebraska. But he wasn't ready for what he encountered.

Ortiz was homesick. He missed his family. He missed his friends. He missed home, which was nearly 1,500 miles away. He missed the East Coast. He wasn't used to the Midwest.

He perceived himself as "a fish out of water." The highly touted recruit ended up redshirting his first year. Then as a redshirt freshman in 1996, he recorded 10 tackles while backing up Jamel Williams and classmate Brian Shaw.

Ortiz felt uncomfortable, which led him to rebel against the rules on occasion. But things began to change toward the end of his second year.

"There were a lot of guys on the team who were more than 20 hours driving distance from home," Ortiz said. "But most of them were from California and Arizona. When I got here, we didn't have hardly anyone from New York or New Jersey or Connecticut. I didn't get home much, and it was hard. But once I let myself, I found a family away from home in my teammates."

Ortiz found friends in fellow linebackers Shaw, Julius Jackson and Eric Johnson, whom he now calls his best friend.

And then, as Ortiz began to feel more comfortable, his son was born.

"It was hard," Ortiz said. "After he was born, I really missed home. I wanted to see him. I thought about him a lot."

Ortiz could only get home two or three times a year to see the younger Tony. Three years later, he still doesn't see his son as much as he would like. Ortiz tries to make up for their lack of time together by calling his son on the phone three times a week.

"There's been such a difference in me since my son was born," Ortiz said. "I think about his future instead of mine all the time. He could be a great athlete in any sport. But I don't want to push him to do that. I just want to give him the opportunity to do that if he wants to, just like my dad did."

"My parents always encouraged me to choose my own path. I dug my own ditches and crawled out of them myself. My son will choose his own path. He's a smart little boy."

But until that time comes, Ortiz wants to provide his son with an example. Nebraska linebackers coach Craig Bohl said Ortiz needn't worry.

After a slow start his first two years with the Huskers, Ortiz turned things around. He rose from his third-string duties in 1996 to play a starting role in the 1998 Orange Bowl against Tennessee for the eventual national champion Huskers. Ortiz totaled 32 tackles (11 solo), including six tackles for 26 yards lost and 3 1/2 sacks for 24 yards lost in 1997.

As a junior in 1998, Ortiz alternated as the starter at Sam linebacker with Shaw, then started the final nine games of the season. He finished as Nebraska's eighth-leading tackler with 46 stops, including nine tackles for 28 yards lost, one sack, two pass breakups, four quarterback hurries and a fumble caused.

This season, Ortiz again shares the No. 1 spot with Shaw. Through NU's first eight games, Ortiz is fifth on the team with 28 tackles (14 solo), including six tackles for 30 yards lost. He has three sacks for 26 yards lost, two quarterback hurries and one fumble recovery for seven yards. Against Kansas, Ortiz had three tackles, including an 11-yard sack.

Bohl has carefully noted the changes in Ortiz.

"He is so much more mature now than he was four or five years ago," Bohl said. "He's got a good head on his shoulders. He's got a good understanding of how to react in certain situations now. Tony has really developed into a leader. He goes after what he wants."

After nearly five years at Nebraska there aren't too many items left on Ortiz's wish list. He wants to stick around after December and work out for NFL scouts during the spring semester. His long-range plans include trying his luck in the NFL, and most important, watching his son grow up.

"I have gotten everything I could have possibly wanted out of my time at Nebraska," Ortiz said. "My first goal was to graduate. I did that in August. My second goal was to win a national championship. We did that, and who knows? It could happen again."

"My third goal was to be remembered as the kind of player who always gave his best and worked as hard as he could. That's a good goal for life. I'll always be working on that."

With his No. 1 fan closely watching, Ortiz said, he wouldn't do things any other way.

Tony Ortiz ranks fifth on the Huskers with 28 tackles this season.

Husker Tackle Fights Through Season-Ending Knee Injury

By Adam Froemming

Before fall practice started, senior Jason Schwab looked forward to competing for the 1999 national championship and being remembered as a member of one of the best offensive lines in Nebraska history.

But those dreams vanished in a matter of seconds.

Schwab was injured during the first day of full-contact football practice in August, tearing his anterior cruciate ligament and medial collateral ligament in his right knee, ending his senior season before the first game.

Although down the 6-foot-1, 300-pound offensive tackle isn't out.

"(The injury) is something that happens with football," Schwab said. "Injuries always are around, it is very unfortunate that it had to happen, but everything happens for a reason. Hopefully that reason was that I am supposed to come back next year and play and contribute to the team."

Schwab's injury threw the coaching staff for a loop.

"Jason's injury really put a crimp into what we felt we had going early in the season," Offensive Line coach Milt Tenopir said. "Physically, Jason was one of our strongest people up front."

Senior captain and fellow offensive lineman Adam Julch praises the fallen lineman.

"Losing Schwab was probably the biggest blow that we could have had," Julch said. "He is a great athlete and probably our best player on the offensive line."

Even though Schwab can't contribute on the field, his off-the-field role as a leader hasn't changed.

"I am trying to be there to show support, and even though I'm not playing, I am still a member of the team," Schwab said. "I am there for the guys to talk to, or if the younger guys need any advice, I am there to help them."

His leadership qualities are noticed by his teammates as well.

"He was our leader and brought great friendship and unity to the whole offensive line," Julch said.

Because of his injury, the senior plans on applying for a sixth year of eligibility from the NCAA. A sixth year is sometimes granted to seniors who have suffered season-ending injuries. Schwab also missed the entire 1996 season because of a knee injury.

"I know that he would like to have another year back. He is a very valuable player for us," Tenopir said.

One of six former walk-ons to earn a starting position for the Huskers last season, Schwab's dedication in the weight room has paid immense dividends. Schwab increased his Performance Index by almost 1,000 points, going from 1,275 in 1995 as a freshman to 2,245 in 1999. He also gained nearly 100 pounds in the squat, moving from 594 to 690 pounds. Schwab's speed also increased lowering his 10-yard dash by more than 0.2 seconds. His teammates took notice of his dedication in the weight room and voted him as a finalist for Nebraska Lifter of the Year this past spring.

In 1998, Schwab finished third on the team in "pancake" blocks with a total of 79. He averaged 6.6 per game with a career-best of 12 in the Huskers' 24-3 win at California. He posted 17 pancakes during the 1997 campaign, with a season best of five against Baylor.

Along with being the only offensive lineman to start every game last season, Schwab also saw action in 10 games during the 1997 season as a backup to All-Big 12 right tackle Eric Anderson. Schwab also saw time as a member of the Huskers' field goal and PAT units.

While spending his prep career at Cretin-Derham High School in the St. Paul, Minn., suburb of Eagan, Schwab played in four consecutive state tournaments, earning honorable-mention all-state honors as a senior. Playing both sides of the ball, Schwab posted 74 tackles and had four sacks as a defensive tackle. He also played varsity baseball, lettering twice.

Although he was dominant on the gridiron, Schwab's phone wasn't ringing with calls from college football recruiters.

"In high school, I was turned down by Division II schools and ended up here," Schwab said. "It just goes to show that if you have the heart and the will to play football, it doesn't matter what you were like in high school. If you get a chance to play here and you work hard, the coaches will give you an opportunity."

Looking back on the five years that he has spent in Lincoln, Schwab, who earned a scholarship before the 1997 season, has no regrets.

"It's been a good time. I wouldn't trade it for anything in the world," Schwab said. "Nebraska is a great place to play football, and it has really shaped me as a human being and as a man. It has been a great place to be."

Playing for one of the most successful college football programs in history, Schwab has gained quite a bit in his five years here.

"For one, I have gained an education," Schwab said. "I have also gained a better sense of athletics, I know what team football is all about.

I know what it is like to win with class. I know what it is like to lose with class, and I know how to learn from both winning and losing."

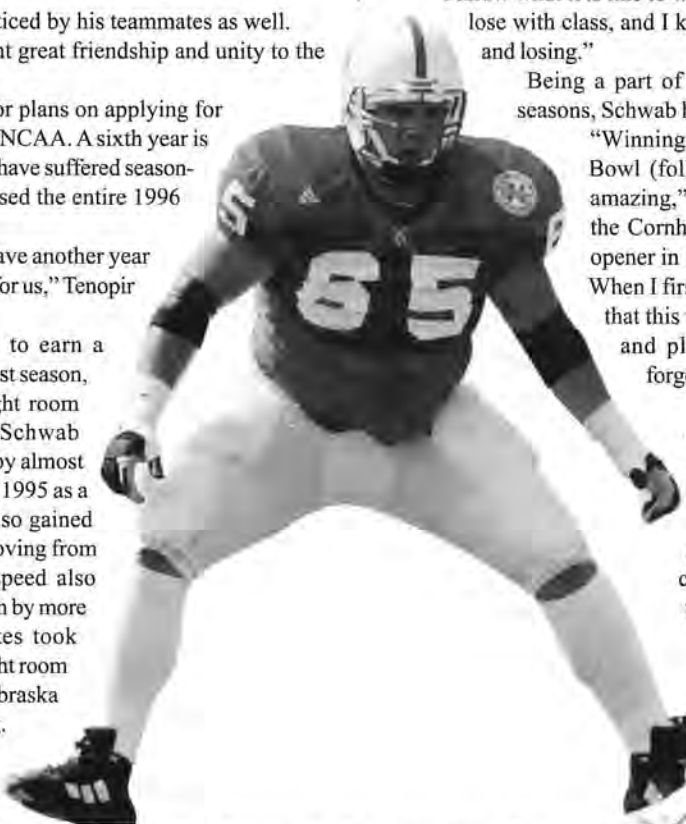

Being a part of Nebraska football for the past five seasons, Schwab has some great memories.

"Winning my first national title at the Fiesta Bowl (following the 1995 season) was pretty amazing," Schwab said. "My first game I saw the Cornhuskers play in person was the home opener in 1995, Nebraska versus Arizona State. When I first saw Memorial Stadium full, I knew that this was going to be a great place to come and play. It was something I will never forget."

Last season, Schwab's academic excellence landed him a spot on the Big 12 Commissioner's Fall Academic Honor Roll. His dedication and effort also earned him honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades in 1998. The communication studies major is on track to graduate after the fall semester.

After his collegiate career is over, Schwab might like to try his hand at coaching.

"I'd like to have a chance to play at the next level, but there are only a few people that get that chance to play," Schwab said. "If not I'd like to stay around football and coach."

The only Husker lineman to start every game last season, Jason Schwab suffered a season-ending knee injury in August.

Dedicated to Excellence

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

University of Nebraska Director of Athletics

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, he had a vision. His plan was to balance the budget; provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium; provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes; improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans; and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation. He has pursued that vision with passion.

Entering his seventh year, Nebraska is among the nation's best in all sports. The Huskers have ranked among the top 15 in the Sears Directors' Cup in each of the last five years with a school-best fourth-place showing in 1996-97. Byrne won't rest until the Huskers are No. 1.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but also to provide improved fan amenities and fan safety. The 1999 season will unveil NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates will not end with the football program. The Bob Devaney Sports Center will receive more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also includes improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics. Other improvements to the Devaney Center under Byrne's watch include a new locker room for women's staff, a new roof over the pool area, remodeling of the central concessions area, a new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator.

The track and field program will benefit from a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Center next year, and a $2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project, which will be completed in the fall of 1999. In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Soccer Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure a home game in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships for the third consecutive season. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, the NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza. The NU Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room, and new infield turf was installed at Buck Beltzer Baseball Stadium, which is next in line for major renovations.

Over the past five years, the Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. Improvements and reorganization of the offices within the athletic department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better utilizes Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly took its place among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country.

Byrne orchestrated the improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $36 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made just seven coaching hires in the last six years, but his knack for recognizing young, charismatic talent is evident. Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships in four of the last five seasons); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (participated in the NCAA Tournament the last three years, including the Elite Eight in 1996); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA Tournament berths both years); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won the national title in 1999); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (won school's first conference tournament championship in 1999, and earned first NCAA regional berth since 1985); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (posted Nebraska's 30th consecutive nine-win season and earned the school's 30th straight bowl berth in 1998); and Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998.

During Byrne's tenure, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. He helped increase Nebraska's Big 12-leading athletic program to 24 sports with the addition of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of Title IX compliance without hurting Nebraska's century-old men's programs. In the past six years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. In fact, Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just five Division I football schools to have a woman directing its sports information department.

He has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 1998-99 season, Nebraska:

- Recorded its fifth consecutive top 15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a 12th-place showing in Division I.
- Won four Big 12 championships (volleyball, soccer, women's gymnastics and baseball).
- Finished in the top 20 nationally in 12 sports, including football, volleyball, women's soccer, wrestling, men's and women's gymnastics, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's outdoor track and field, men's golf and women's bowling.

Byrne has worked tirelessly to establish close ties with the NU community and Husker fans and has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans. In conjunction with the rest of the NU administration, Byrne arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Coaches Association in 1999. Byrne was vice president and secretary/treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events.

Byrne is a national leader in collegiate athletics and makes an aggressive effort to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. In 1999, he served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has had an active voice in conference planning.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks games on radio and television. Byrne led the $19 million fund drive that resulted in new homes for Oregon's football team and athletic offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor. Byrne served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1991-92, and is currently in his eighth year on the NACDA Executive Committee. He was also chairman of the Pac-10 Conference Executive Committee and was the National Athletic Fundraisers Association National Fundraiser of the Year.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 4, and Davis, 2, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State. Bill and Marilyn's other son, Bill, is a division manager for Visa in its worldwide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

University of Nebraska Football Coach

Few college football coaches have faced a more daunting challenge than the one that greeted Frank Solich when he took over the Nebraska football program in 1998. After all, the Husker program had won three national titles in the past four seasons and posted an unprecedented 29 straight nine-win seasons.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the challenge as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program, which has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for more than 35 years. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter-century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 109 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Nebraska model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir-apparent for several seasons. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and then for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

In Solich's first season as head coach he proved to be a good choice to meet the challenge of leading one of the nation's elite football programs. The Huskers posted a 9-4 record, the 30th straight season Nebraska had won nine or more games. In addition, Nebraska's appearance in the Culligan Holiday Bowl marked the 30th straight year the Huskers played in a postseason contest. Solich's nine victories last season equaled the totals of his two Hall-of-Fame predecessors, Devaney and Osborne, who each won nine games in their first season as Nebraska's head coach.

Nebraska's success in 1998 came in the face of a great deal of adversity that could have made a lesser program shake. The Huskers opened the season with one of their least experienced squads in many seasons. Throughout the season, Solich's leadership was tested by a rash of injuries that hit the 1998 team. In all, nine projected starters missed a total of 46 games, forcing Solich to put a different starting lineup on the field nearly every Saturday.

Nebraska's transition from Osborne to Solich as head coach was very smooth. Like Osborne, Solich served as his own offensive coordinator and like all of Osborne's teams, the 1998 Huskers were among the nation's top rushing teams. The Huskers averaged a Big 12-best 253.8 yards per game on the ground and ranked sixth nationally in rushing.

Nebraska's defense was again among the nation's best in 1998, ranking 22nd in total defense, 16th in rush defense and 11th in scoring defense. And like Osborne's teams, the Huskers boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking seventh in the nation in net punting.

The most important aspect of Solich's promotion to head coach may be that it kept the veteran Husker coaching staff intact. The eight assistants from Osborne's staff who remained with Solich have a combined 122 years of coaching service at Nebraska. That experience allowed Solich to begin his first season as a head coach surrounded by familiar faces and ideas.

The 54-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

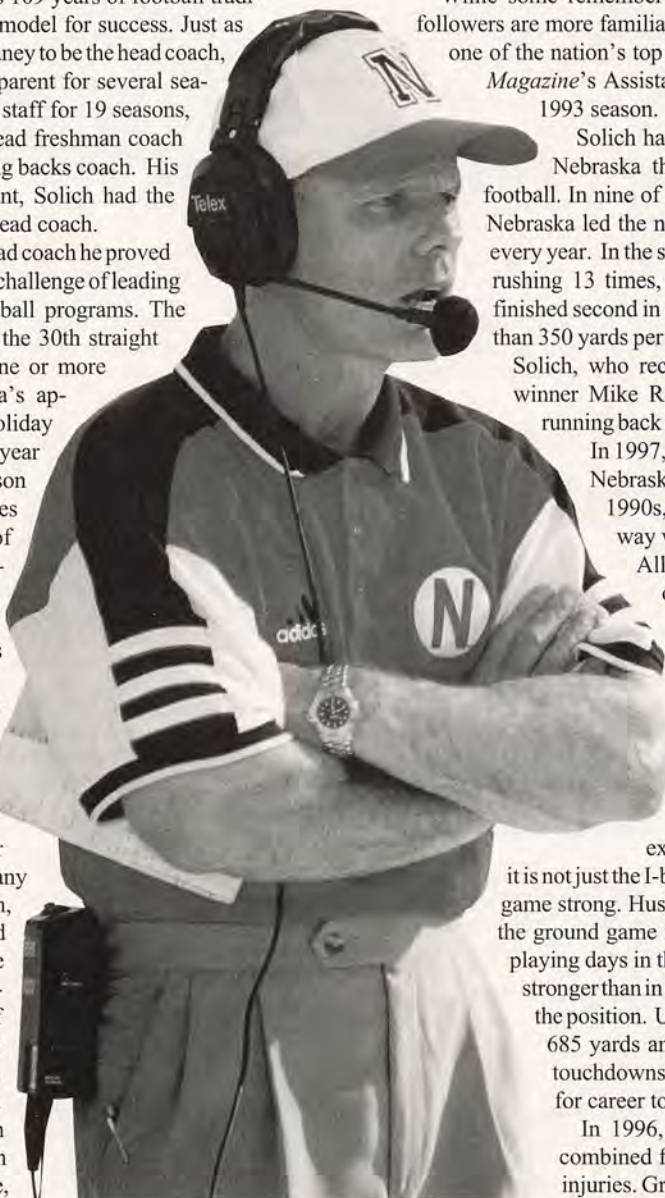

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. In nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, Nebraska led the nation in rushing and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, NU churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

In 1997, Solich's final season as running backs coach, Nebraska collected its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green, who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single-season total in school history, and 22 touchdowns and capped his season with an Orange Bowl-record 206-yard performance against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior season, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in Nebraska history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong. Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last 30 years, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play has never been stronger than in 1997 and 1998, when Joel Makovicka manned the position. Under Solich as a junior, Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns. In 1998, Makovicka broke the school record for career touchdowns by a fullback.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs that combined for more than 2,000 yards, despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a

YOU MAKE THE CALL

The rare play, quirky bounce or bizarre situation can give college football referees instant headaches, especially since they are expected to make immediate decisions during the heat of battle. Under the gun, could you make the right call? Touchdown Illustrated gives you the whistle. Below are rulebook headaches designed to test your knowledge of the game. You be the ref!

HEADACHE #1

PENN STATE vs. OHIO STATE

Ohio State quarterback Steve Bellisari drops back to pass. Feeling pressure from the Penn State pass rush, he attempts a dump-off pass behind the line of scrimmage to tailback Michael Wiley. But the pass is thrown behind him. Linebacker LaVar Arrington scoops up the ball at midfield and runs into the end zone. Ohio State coach John Cooper protests, saying the ball should be marked at midfield.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

Touchdown, Penn State. Thanks to a new ruling, the defense can pick up off the ground a loose backward pass (a lateral) and advance it. Previously, the football was dead at the spot where the defense recovered.

HEADACHE #3

SOUTH CAROLINA vs. ALABAMA

On third and three from the South Carolina 30, Alabama quarterback Andrew Zow fades back to pass. The Gamecocks' rush forces him out of the pocket. About to be sacked, he throws a desperation pass that hits offensive tackle Kenric Lott.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

There is a five-yard penalty against Alabama for a pass touched by an ineligible receiver. But unlike previous years, there is no loss of down. So Bama repeats third down, starting at the USC 35.

HEADACHE #2

NEBRASKA vs. KANSAS STATE

Nebraska tailback DeAngelo Evans breaks away from the pack, headed toward the end zone. But when he gets to the five-yard line, Kansas State linebacker Mark Simoneau punches the ball out of his arms from behind. The ball rolls through the back of the end zone.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

Touchback. Kansas State takes possession at their own 20. Thanks to a recent rule change, beginning this season, a fumble that rolls in and out of the end zone is now ruled a touchback. Previously, the ball was given to the defense at the spot of the fumble.

HEADACHE #4

LOUISIANA TECH vs. NORTHEAST LOUISIANA

Down by four, with less than two minutes to play, Louisiana Tech is out of times out and is facing a second and 10 at its own 33. Quarterback Tim Rattay scrambles out of the pocket and away from the Northeast Louisiana rush. As he gets to the 35, he sees teammate Delwyn Daigre wide open and hurls the ball downfield to him.

YOU'RE THE REF:

What happens next?

ANSWER

La. Tech is penalized for an illegal forward pass, but the five-yard penalty is marked from the spot of the foul, not the line of scrimmage as in previous years. So Tech faces third down and 13 from the 30.

sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green was the final addition in a long line of running backs who earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that has helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 25 years. Osborne won 255 games in his 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 20 years have posted an amazing 209-37-1 record, for an .848 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years as an assistant on the NU staff, the Huskers captured three national championships, all while Solich was assistant head coach. In the same period, Solich was on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams who finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team. He held the NU single-game rushing record (204 yards against Air Force in 1965) for 10 years and ranks 45th on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 36 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha, in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two seasons and the 1967 team was state runnerup. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1976 and 1977. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys prep coach of the year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the freshmen that stretched to 1984. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record, before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In his absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 touchdowns and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per carry.

Solich's I-back excellence continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-league back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Sophomore Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs to earn first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman of the Year after rushing for 900 yards, including an NU single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-conference honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 touchdowns and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national title. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing crown his final two seasons, the fourth player to earn that title under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore-record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Green who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

In his 21 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of the nation's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman.

His ability to bring top talent to Lincoln has been evident in his first two recruiting classes as head coach. Solich's first two classes have included a combined 18 prep All-Americans and players from 16 different states, in addition to Canada. Both classes have been ranked in the nation's top 20.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. From 1983 to 1997, Solich was the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,500 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983, the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 1999 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck, of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, Jon Dalton, have a 4-year-old daughter, Catherine, and a 2-year-old son, Aaron.

Solich Profile

Years at Nebraska: Solich is beginning his second season as head coach, his 21st overall on the Nebraska coaching staff. He served for 15 years (1983-97) as Nebraska's running backs coach after four seasons as the Husker head freshman coach (1979-82). He was promoted to assistant head coach in 1991 and held that position until he was named head coach in December of 1997. Solich is 9-4 (.692) as the Huskers' head coach and Nebraska's record in Solich's 20 years on staff is 209-37-1 (.848). He was named head coach by Director of Athletics Bill Byrnes on Dec. 10, 1997, the same day Tom Osborne announced his retirement, effective after the 1998 Orange Bowl game.

Previous Coaching Experience: 1966-68, Holy Name (Neb.) High School (head coach); 1968-79, Southeast (Neb.) High School (head coach).

Solich's Basic Coaching Philosophy

"It's important to me as a coach to help players develop to the best of their abilities and to have them understand their responsibilities as student-athletes. In doing so, you're helping them to grow and mature as a complete individuals and to prepare themselves for the future."

Husker Football

Assistant Coaches

Charlie McBride Defensive Coordinator/ Defensive Line

A 1996 finalist for the Broyles Assistant Coach of the Year Award, Charlie McBride is in his 23rd season on the Nebraska coaching staff, and his 18th as defensive coordinator. His latest honor is a 1998 "Top Assistant Award" from the All-American Football Foundation.

McBride, hailed by The Sporting News as the nation's best collegiate defensive line coach in its 1992 preseason annual, has annually put one of the nation's best defenses on the field. Since taking over as defensive coordinator in 1982, McBride's Blackshirts have ranked among the nation's top 15 in both total defense and scoring defense 12 times, including 1984's nation-leading per-game averages of 203.3 yards and 9.5 points. NU was in the top 10 in total defense seven straight years from 1984 to 1990. The Blackshirts, who have allowed an average of less than 280 yards and 14.1 points in McBride's tenure, have also led the conference in total defense seven times.

McBride has served as the Huskers' defensive line coach since coming to Nebraska in 1977, and in that time, has produced such standouts as All-Americans Neil Smith, now of the Denver Broncos; Danny Noonan, a seven-year NFL performer, and Jason Peter, an All-American in 1997.

An All-Big Eight end and punter at Colorado, McBride earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from CU in 1962, then played one season for the AFL's Denver Broncos. Following a one-year stint with the Broncos, he became head coach at Chicago's Fenger High School, a position he held for the 1963-64 season. He returned to Colorado as a graduate assistant (1965-66) before stints at Arizona State (1967-69) and Wisconsin (1970-76).

A Chicago native, McBride was a four-sport standout (football, basketball, baseball and track) at Morgan Park High School, where he earned prep All-America honors in football and baseball. He is married to the former Debbie Ann Denniston of Barrington, Ill., and they have three sons, Mike, Jeff and David; two grandsons, Ryan and Keefe, and a granddaughter, Kelcy.

Nelson Barnes Rush Ends

The newest member of the Huskers' defensive staff, rush ends coach Nelson Barnes is in his third season on the Nebraska coaching staff. In his first two years, Barnes continued Nebraska's tradition of outstanding defensive ends.

In two years at Nebraska, Barnes has coached three All-Big 12 selections, including Mike Rucker and Chad Kelsay, who both earned second-team All-Big 12 honors. Kelsay and Rucker helped the NU defense to top 25 national rankings in three of four categories last season before being chosen in the 1999 NFL Draft.

In Barnes' first season at Nebraska, the Huskers ranked in the top 12 in the nation in three of four major defensive categories, as his rush ends accounted for 21 of NU's 44 sacks in 1997. Barnes' prize pupil during his first season was 1997 Lombardi Award winner Grant Wistrom. The consensus All-American established the Nebraska career record with 57.5 tackles for loss en route to Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year honors, while earning first-team GTE Academic All-America honors.

Barnes also plays an integral part in Nebraska's recruiting success. His primary areas of recruiting responsibility include Houston and southern Louisiana, as well as other parts of the Southeast.

At Texas, where he served from 1994 to 1996, Barnes coached the defensive line and helped guide the Longhorns to three consecutive bowl bids. Barnes also served as the defensive line coach at Kansas State in 1992, helping the Wildcats to a 9-2-1 record and the school's first bowl victory at the Copper Bowl. Before his one-year stay at K-State, Barnes spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as the defensive line coach at Western Illinois and assisted the 1991 team to the I-AA playoffs. He also served in the same role at Missouri Western in 1990.

Barnes' college coaching experience began at North Texas. He served as the defensive line/linebackers coach at the Denton, Texas, school from 1983 to 1989, and was a graduate assistant at the school in 1981 and 1982.

Barnes played at North Texas under Coach Hayden Fry and was a three-year starter for UNT, helping North Texas to back-to-back 9-2 records in 1977 and 1978. Barnes earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from North Texas in 1982.

A native of Alvin, Texas, Barnes is single.

Craig Bohl Linebackers

Husker linebackers coach Craig Bohl is in his fifth season on the staff, after rejoining the Nebraska football family in the spring of 1995.

Bohl played for Nebraska under Tom Osborne from 1977 through 1979. The Lincoln native also served as a graduate assistant coach for the Huskers from 1981 through 1983. In Bohl's four seasons on Nebraska's defensive staff, the Huskers have ranked no lower than 22nd nationally in total defense.

During the 1998 season, Bohl directed a Husker defense that finished 11th nationally in scoring defense and 16th against the run. Jay Foreman was a Butkus semifinalist and a second-team All-Big 12 selection by the Associated Press, while Brian Shaw earned second-team Academic All-America honors.

In 1997, the Husker Blackshirts finished fifth in the nation in total defense and were third against the run, while Bohl helped lead the Husker defense to a top 10 national ranking in all four major defensive categories. In Bohl's first season, NU ranked in the top five in two defensive categories, and linebacker Terrell Farley earned first-team All-Big Eight, second-team All-America and conference defensive newcomer of the year honors.

A strong recruiter, Bohl recruits Houston, as well as much of the Pacific Northwest. The 14-year collegiate coaching veteran spent the 1994 campaign as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at Duke, helping the Blue Devils to an 8-4 record (a five-game improvement from Duke's 3-8 mark in 1993) and a berth in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the school's first postseason appearance since 1989.

Before moving to Duke, Bohl spent five seasons as Goldsmith's defensive coordinator at Rice (1989-93) after serving stints at Wisconsin (1987-88), Tulsa (1985-86) and North Dakota State (1984).

Bohl, who earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1981, is married to the former Deanna Hauptman of Nebraska City, and they have 8-year-old twin daughters, Mallory and Morgan, and a 5-year-old son, Aaron.

Ron Brown Receivers

Ron Brown is in his 13th season as the Huskers' receivers coach. His receivers, noted as excellent perimeter blockers, have helped Nebraska to seven NCAA rushing titles in the last 12 seasons, while leading the conference in touchdown receptions three times in his tenure.

Twenty-two of his former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' 1992 first-round draft pick, and Tyrone Hughes, who was a two-time NFL Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints.

In Brown's tenure, an average of nearly two NU receivers each season have been drafted or signed free agent contracts. Tight end Sheldon Jackson was a seventh-round pick of Buffalo in the 1999 NFL Draft after earning second-team All-America honors last season, while split end Kenny Cheatham signed a free agent contract with the New York Giants.

Brown covers a key area for Nebraska's recruiting efforts, handling much of the western United States. In recent years, Nebraska secured a number of players from Arizona, Colorado and other western states, all Brown's areas of responsibility.

Brown joined Nebraska's staff after a four-year stint at Brown University in Providence, R.I. He spent one season as the Bears' head freshman coach in 1983, then moved up to the varsity staff and tutored the defensive backs for three seasons. He also served as the assistant to the athletic director in 1986. In 1985, the Bears' defense led the Ivy League and ranked among the top eight in Division I-AA in rushing, scoring and total defense.

A standout defensive back at Brown in the late 1970s and a member of the school's Sports Hall of Fame, Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982. He began his coaching career as defensive coordinator for the semi-pro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Coach Brown hosts a weekly statewide Christian radio show across Nebraska and has authored several books on Christian character and growth. He is a speaker and writer for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and serves as an FCA national spokesman for race reconciliation and writes for FCA's national magazine, Sharing the Victory.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter, and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine Brown, 4, and Bronwyn Pearl, who celebrated her first birthday in July.

George Darlington Defensive Backs

George Darlington, the dean of the Nebraska football coaching staff, is in his 27th season at Nebraska and his 14th as the Huskers' secondary coach after tutoring the defensive ends for 13 years.

A recipient of a 1998 All-American Football Foundation "Top Assistant Award,"

Darlington helped develop four

All-America defensive ends—George Andrews, Jimmy Williams, Derrie Nelson and Bob Martin, and he has had at least one first-team all-conference defensive back for 11 straight seasons. In 1998, junior cornerback Ralph Brown earned first-team All-Big 12 honors for the second straight season, while rover Mike Brown was a second-team honoree.

The Huskers, who have led the conference in pass efficiency defense three times in the last 11 seasons, have sent several players to the professional ranks, including four selections in the past three years. In 1997, Michael Booker was a first-round selection of the Atlanta Falcons, while Mike Minter and Eric Stokes were selected in the second and fifth rounds by the Carolina Panthers and Seattle Seahawks, respectively.

Darlington plays a major role in bringing top talent to the Nebraska campus, recruiting the west coast, including California and Hawaii.

Before joining Tom Osborne's staff in 1973, Darlington spent four seasons as an assistant coach at San Jose State after stints at Lebanon Valley (Pa.) College, Dartmouth and Johnson Regional High School in Clark, N.J. After a two-sport career (football and lacrosse) at Rutgers, Darlington graduated in 1961 and earned his master's degree from Stanford in 1962. George and his wife, Susan, have three children—Lisa, David and Julia—and four grandchildren.

Turner Gill Quarterbacks

Former All-Big Eight Husker signal caller Turner Gill is in his eighth season as Nebraska's quarterbacks coach.

In 1998, Nebraska was forced to start three different quarterbacks because of injuries, with Bobby Newcombe, Eric Crouch and Monte Christo all drawing the starting nod. Despite the unsettled situation at quarterback, Nebraska remained one of the league's top offenses, finishing fourth in total offense and tops in the Big 12 and sixth nationally in rushing.

In 1997, Gill helped Scott Frost orchestrate the Nebraska option attack to perfection, as Frost became the first Husker quarterback and only the 10th in NCAA history to pass and rush for 1,000 yards in the same season, rushing for 1,095 yards and passing for 1,237 more. Frost finished his two-year run as NU's signal caller with a 24-2 record, including a national title in 1997.

In 1995, Tommie Frazier was a consensus first-team All-American, won the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award, finished as the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy and was a Davey O'Brien Award finalist. A four-year starter, Frazier, who became the first player in Nebraska history to start at quarterback as a true freshman in 1992, set several school records, including the career total offense mark.

A strong recruiter, Gill covers part of Texas and Louisiana, all of Arkansas, and much of the junior college ranks. Along with Dan Young, Gill also heads the "Hire a Husker" program, which matches NU student-athletes with local businesses for summer employment.

As Nebraska's starting quarterback from 1981 through 1983, Gill led the Huskers to a 28-2 mark, including a 20-0 league record, and three conference titles. A three-time All-Big Eight pick and a second-team All-American as a senior, Gill finished fourth in the Heisman trophy race in 1983, guiding the Huskers to a 12-1 record and second in the final polls.

A talented all-around athlete, Gill spent two seasons with the Canadian Football League's Montreal Concordes (1984-85) and three years (1986-88) in the Cleveland and Detroit minor league baseball systems. He left baseball and returned to his native state to the University of North Texas in 1989, where he was a volunteer assistant football coach and earned a B.A. in behavior analysis in 1990.

Gill returned to Nebraska in 1990 and served as a graduate assistant on the Husker staff, then moved to SMU as a graduate assistant for the 1991 campaign. He served as the Mustangs' receivers coach for that season, and was elevated to a full-time coaching position before returning to Nebraska in August of 1992.

He is married to the former Gayle DeBrie, and they have two daughters, Jordan, 9, and Margaux, 5.

Dave Gillespie Running Backs

Dave Gillespie is in his second season on the Husker coaching staff. While he is the newest member of the staff, he is certainly a familiar face in the Nebraska camp.

Gillespie was hired in the spring of 1998 to take Coach Frank Solich's position as the assistant coach in charge of running backs. In addition to his on-field duties, Gillespie is responsible for the evaluation of recruits.

In his first season at Nebraska, Gillespie was forced to shuffle the lineup because of injuries in the backfield. Despite the problems, he helped the Huskers to a Big 12 rushing title, averaging 253.8 yards per game.

Gillespie's Nebraska ties are strong. He played running back for the Huskers early in Tom Osborne's coaching career from 1974 to 1976. Gillespie began his coaching career in the Nebraska high school ranks, serving as an assistant coach at Lincoln High School from 1978 to 1981 before moving to Hastings High as head coach from 1982 to 1984.

Gillespie rejoined the Nebraska staff as a graduate assistant for Osborne in 1985 and served as the Huskers' administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator from 1986 to 1993. During his eight-year span as recruiting coordinator at Nebraska (1986-93), Gillespie assisted in the recruitment of 15 All-Americans, which included three Outland Trophy winners, one Butkus Award winner, one Heisman Trophy runner-up and one Lombardi Award winner. His last recruiting class (1993) posted a 60-3 five-year record, winning three national titles.

Gillespie directs the Husker recruiting efforts in the majority of the eastern part of the United States, as well as Canada. This past year he also took over the talent-rich state of Florida.

He returned to Nebraska after four seasons on the staff at the University of Kansas, serving as an assistant coach under Glen Mason from 1994 to 1996, and as an administrative assistant for first-year Jayhawk coach Terry Allen in 1997.

Gillespie earned three letters as an I-back for the Huskers along with his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1977. He earned his master's degree in educational administration from Nebraska in 1986.

Born in San Jose, Calif, Gillespie is married to the former Anne Van Pelt, and they have three daughters, Katie, 18, Nicole, 15, and Emily, 12.

Milt Tenopir Offensive Line

Milt Tenopir is in his 26th campaign as the Huskers' offensive line coach in 1999. No college football program can boast the honors that Nebraska's offensive linemen have piled up during Tenopir's tenure.

Nebraska has won an amazing 11 NCAA rushing titles with Tenopir on staff, the most recent in 1997. That veteran unit paved the way for Nebraska to lead the nation in rushing for the fifth time in the 1990s, rushing for an average of 392.6 yards per game. Under Tenopir's guidance, Nebraska has produced six Outland Trophy winners, including offensive guard Aaron Taylor in 1997, and a pair of Lombardi Award honorees.

In all, Tenopir has coached 18 All-Americans, 11 academic All-Americans, six NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners and 44 all-conference selections. The Huskers have had at least one first-team all-conference lineman in each of Tenopir's 25 seasons on the sideline, while his O-line has had at least one academic all-conference selection for 21 straight years. From 1981 to 1983, the Huskers produced an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophy winners in Dave Rimington (1981-82) and Dean Steinkuhler (1983). Rimington also claimed the 1982 Lombardi Award, while Steinkuhler followed a year later to allow NU to become the only school to win back-to-back Lombardi Awards.

Tenopir has long been a strong force in Nebraska's recruiting success, recruiting Oklahoma, Kansas and west Texas. The veteran assistant is also in charge of Nebraska's spring coaching clinic, which this past April brought nearly 1,100 high school coaches to campus.

Before joining the NU staff in 1974, Tenopir posted a 76-34-1 record as a high school coach in Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska.

A native of Harvard, Neb., Tenopir received his bachelor's degree from Sterling (Kan.) College in 1962. Milt is the father of three grown children, Kim, Todd and Pamela, and has five grandchildren. He is married to the former Terri Richardson, and is the stepfather to Dana, 19, and Daniel, 16

Dan Young Offensive Line/Kickers

Dan Young is in his 17th season on the Nebraska coaching staff and his 14th as the Huskers' offensive line and kicking coach. The play of the Nebraska offensive line and special teams has been a key to the Huskers' three national titles in five seasons.

Young's punting team is consistently among the nation's best and ranked among the nation's top six in net punting from 1992 to 1994. Last season, the Huskers ranked seventh nationally in net punting, while senior Bill Lafleur set a school record with his 44.9 yard punting average and earned GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. In 1998, placekicker Kris Brown broke the school's all-time scoring record and became the NCAA's all-time leader in PATs made and attempted (tied). Last spring Brown became only the second kicker selected in the 1999 NFL Draft, when he was chosen by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the seventh round.

Young also played a part in the coaching of a young NU offensive line in 1998. Despite replacing four starters, NU once again led the Big 12 in rushing, averaging 253.8 yards per game. While Young has been an aide with the offensive line, the Huskers have won eight NCAA rushing titles, and three NU offensive linemen have won the Outland Trophy.

The veteran assistant also heads up Nebraska's in-state recruiting efforts, in addition to recruiting several other Midwestern states. In the last two years, Nebraska has signed 16 in-state players to scholarships. Young also directs the Husker summer football camp and works with assistant coach Turner Gill in leading the "Hire a Husker" program, matching Husker student-athletes with summer employers.

Young became an offensive line coach with Milt Tenopir following the 1985 season. Young spent three years (1983-85) as head freshman/junior varsity coach, posting a 14-1-0 record, before joining the varsity staff. Young came to NU after six successful seasons as the head coach at Omaha's Westside High School, where his Warriors were 55-11-0 from 1977-82, winning state championships in 1981 and 1982. He began his coaching career as head coach at Barneston (Neb.) High School from 1962 to 1964 (25-3-0) and served as an assistant at St. Paul (Neb.) and Westside High Schools.

A graduate of Primrose (Neb.) High School, Young received his bachelor's degree from Kearney State in 1962 and his master's degree from Reed College in 1972. He has a son, Jeff, a daughter, Kris, and five grandchildren. Dan and his wife, Ronda, were married in the summer of 1995.

The Devaney Society

The University of Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Nebraska has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program has established the Devaney Society, named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney.

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship was endowed in memory of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer who died in a plane crash on April 18, 1996. Brook was the epitome of a backup quarterback—patient, but always prepared, both mentally and physically to take over when needed.

Berringer served as Tommie Frazier's backup in 1994, until the starter's season ended because of blood clots. With poise and grace, Berringer calmly led Nebraska to eight consecutive victories and to the national championship game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

An excellent student, Berringer graduated in December 1995, with a degree in business administration. He was expected to be selected in the 1996 NFL Draft on April 20-21, possibly as the fifth or sixth quarterback chosen, but did not get to live out his dream.

The Husker football program has established an award in his honor called the "Brook Berringer Citizenship Team."

The endowment was established by a benefit concert given on Aug. 27, 1997, by country supergroup Sawyer Brown, who were friends of Berringer.

Nebraska student-athletes who continue with graduate school received more than $76,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1998.

Memorial Stadium

Continuous Sellouts Since 1962

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and is expected to reach 233 with six home sellouts in 1999. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1988, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 76,342 fans for seven home games, breaking the old record average of 76,341 set in 1974.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With the new additions, the Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium will have a seating capacity of 74,056 in 1999, up from 72,700 last season. Home attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 26 years as NU has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium and preserved despite construction is the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 76 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center performance buffet/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992. This season, Memorial Stadium was resurfaced with FieldTurf, a new artificial surface with that is safer than artifical turf. Nebraska is the first Division I program to use the new surface.

Prior to the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17' feet high, by 23' feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed for the start of the 1999 season. Included in the improvements are the addition of a new press box facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which will house 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. Completed, the renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 74,056. It is also noted that the original four inscriptions will remain visible for the generations to come.

Huskers Boast Impressive Record at Memorial Stadium/ Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska football teams for the past 76 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 311-99-13 (.751) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 37-13-3 all time under the lights, including 8-1-0 at home.

Memorial Stadium as it appeared in 1931, just eight years after the original construction of the facility. The project required $430,000 in funding.

Husker Swimming & Diving

NU Seeking Top-Ten National Finishes

Established as one of the elite programs in the country, the Nebraska men's and women's swimming and diving teams are coming off stellar seasons in which each finished among the top 12 nationally and second in the Big 12 Conference.

After one of the most successful seasons in school history, Coach Cal Bentz is eagerly awaiting the start of the 1999-2000 season.

"We're always happy to be knocking on the door to the top 10," Bentz said. "Now we plan on tapping loud enough so they let us in."

NU's 1999-2000 schedule can only prepare the Huskers for upcoming challenges, with nationally prominent teams including Southern Methodist, Minnesota, Michigan and North Carolina on the schedule. NU will host the addidas Sprint Classic and Husker Shoot Out on Nov. 19-21, welcoming teams from North Carolina State, Cincinnati, Division II National Champion Drury as well as Penn State (women), Colorado State (women) and the University of California at Santa Barbara (men).

Aside from competitions at Southern Methodist and the Big 12 Relay meet, all of Nebraska's 1999-2000 meets will be held in a 25-meter pool. The NCAA opted to switch from a 25-yard pool to a 25-meter pool for championship events. Many institutions followed suit in order to prepare athletes for major competition. Since 1949, all championship collegiate swimming competitions have been contested in a 25-yard pool. The United States is the only country to implement a 25-yard pool, as all FINA sponsored competitions and international meets are held in either a 25-meter or 50-meter pool, defined as short-course and long-course meters. This fall, the Bob Devaney Sports Center pool follows suit transforming from a 10-lane 25-yard pool into a 10-lane 25-meter pool.

According to Bentz, the NCAA opted for the switch, which is currently a temporary move, to better prepare collegiate athletes for the upcoming Olympic Trials.

"The change has been mandated by the NCAA, and we feel that it is in the best interest of our athletes that they get the advantage of training in a 25-meter pool," Bentz said.

Women's Outlook

After winning five consecutive conference titles from 1994 to 1998, including two Big 12 crowns, national-power Texas managed to trip up the Big Red, denying the Huskers a third consecutive Big 12 title in a tightly waged battle held last February in Austin, Texas. The Longhorns upstaged NU by 31 points, 881.5-850.5. However, NU managed to bounce back, sending 11 athletes to the NCAA Championships, where NU notched its fifth straight top-15 finish, placing 12th and honoring eight All-Americans in the process.

Five All-Americans and 16 letterwinners return for the 1999-2000 season with the goal of reclaiming the Big 12 title and eyeing what could be NU's fourth top-10 national finish in six years.

Among Nebraska's list of returnees is junior Omaha native Shandra Johnson, an All-American and two-time Big 12 Swimmer of the Year. Despite battling a vertebrae stress fracture last season, Johnson repeated as Big 12 champion in the 200- and 500-yard freestyles and the 200-yard backstroke. At the NCAA Championships, she would go on to earn All-America honors in the 200-yard back and 200-yard free, finishing seventh and 14th, respectively.

Senior All-Americans Helen Muller, Beth Karaica and Stacey Sedlacek return to give Nebraska a solid nucleus in the sprint freestyle department. Muller and Karaica both hold spots among NU's all-time top five in the 50- and 100-yard freestyles, while Sedlacek joined them as a member of last season's ninth-place 200- and 400-yard freestyle relays.

Other top returnees for NU include seniors Sasha Van Hamburg-Pine and Christine Troy, both two-time NCAA qualifiers. Van Hamburg-Pine returns as the Big 12 favorite in the 400-yard IM and a candidate for All-America honors, while Troy was the Big 12 runnerup in the 100- and 200-yard backstroke last season.

Lincoln native Amanda Zins returns as NU's top threat in diving. A two-time NCAA Zone qualifier, Zins finished fifth and sixth on the one and three-meter springboard, respectively, at the 1999 Big 12 Championships.

Men's Outlook

Optimism may be at an all-time high for Nebraska men's swimming and diving program. The Huskers return seven All-Americans from what was arguably the most talented team in school history last season, edging out national power Texas A&M for second place at the Big 12 Championships and securing 11th place at the NCAA Championships.

NU returns six athletes who have individually scored at the NCAA Championships, including 15-time All-American Adam Pine.

NU's most prolific scorer in NCAA history, Pine returns for his senior season as the favorite to win the 100-meter butterfly after finishing second in the event in 1997 and 1999. A native of Ballina, Australia, Pine owns the Big 12 record in the 100-yard event. In addition, he finished seventh in the 100-yard freestyle at the NCAA Championships last season.

Sophomore Anthony Rogis returns after one of the most successful freshman campaigns in school history, establishing a new Big 12 record in the 200-yard freestyle in a time of 1:34.97. He went on to finish third in the event at the NCAA Championships, becoming just the fourth Husker to earn a top-three finish at the NCAA Championships.

Seniors Valery Kalmikovs and Michael Windisch return to lead NU in the breaststroke and individual medley events, respectively. Last season, Kalmikovs established a new Big 12 record in the 200-yard breaststroke, placing sixth in the event at the NCAA Championships. Windisch has earned All-America honors competing in the 400-yard IM in each of the past two seasons, while he also owns school records in the 500- and 1,650-yard freestyles.

NU also returns a pair of All-Americans in the diving well. Senior Erik Cook earned All-America honors finishing 11th and 13th on the one- and three-meter springboard, respectively. Junior Bert Locklin, who redshirted last season, placed seventh on the three-meter springboard at the 1998 NCAA Championships.

Husker Bowling

Strives for Back-to-Back National Titles

Kim Claus

After winning its first national championship as a varsity sport last spring, the Nebraska bowling team will look to win consecutive titles for the first time in the program's history this season.

The Huskers have been one of the premier teams in the 1990s, winning three national titles as a club program before being elevated to varsity status in 1997. In fact, the Huskers have been ranked in the top-five nationally every year since 1990.

According to Coach Bill Straub, this season's team has what it takes for another title run.

"We return six of our top seven bowlers from last year's team," Straub said. "Although the player we lost (four-time All-American Jennifer Daugherty) has created a big void, the team has the potential to succeed. We have a great group of returners from last season along with a very good incoming class."

Straub's talented lineup will be led by All-Americans Kim Claus and Diandra Hyman. Claus, who earned All-America honors in 1997-98, is a two-year letterwinner and is one of the Huskers' best clutch performers. A native of Mesquite, Texas, Claus' strike in the ninth frame of game three clinched NU's national title last season. She has a high game of 300 and a high series of 783.

Hyman, a member of the U.S. National Team, was one of Straub's top performers in her initial campaign at Nebraska. A native of Dyer, Ind., Hyman earned All-America honors by posting a single-game high of 290 three times and a high series of 824, the best of any Husker bowler.

Senior Stacy Rogers and sophomores Jennifer Johnson, Christine Couvillon and Amanda O'Harye also return to the NU lineup.

Rogers, a two-year letterwinner, has helped the Huskers to a pair of national titles during her career. Rogers has bowled a perfect 300 game and has a high series of 747.

Johnson, Couvillon and O'Harye all were instrumental in helping NU to the Intercollegiate Bowling title last season. All three have high games or 275 or better and high series of 740 or better. The trio helped the Huskers to 10 top-five finishes during the season.

Marcia Barone, Kari-Ann Carney, Melissa Dillon, Kristen Graham, Ashleigh Hicken, Christina Perez and Kari Schwager will look to earn a spot in a talented Husker bowling lineup.

This season, the Huskers' lone home tournament will be the Great Plains College Championships at Sun Valley Lanes, Feb. 24-27. Considered the top collegiate bowling conference in the nation, the Great Plains Conference features Wichita State and Central Missouri State, along with the Huskers.

BIG RED BOULEVARD

Be a part of the "Tunnel Walk" at Memorial Stadium

Moments before the Nebraska football team takes the field, the coaches and players follow a path from the locker room to Tom Osborne Field. This walk, which is known as the "Tunnel Walk" by the Husker faithful, has become an important game-day tradition at Memorial Stadium.

Beneath the players is the Big Red Boulevard, a brick walkway that stretches to the field. After Coach Osborne won his first of three national championships in 1994, the Big Red Boulevard was created to add to the tradition of the "Tunnel Walk". Now you can become a key part of the tradition.

We invite all dedicated Husker fans to have their own or someone else's name engraved in one of the Boulevard's bricks. Help support the Huskers' five national titles and help the University of Nebraska maintain and improve the finest athletic facilities in the nation.

Your Big Red Boulevard investment is a one-time tax-deductible gift to the University of Nebraska Athletic Department.

Husker Volleyball

NU Spikers Look to Defend Big 12 Crown, Return to Final Four

Nancy Meendering

With Nebraska losing three starters and a three-time All-American from a year ago, Big 12 opponents may think this is the year to wrestle away a conference title from the NU volleyball team.

But with 14 consecutive top-10 national finishes and 20 conference championships in the past 22 seasons, Coach Terry Pettit and the Huskers are not ready to back down.

The 1998 Huskers placed themselves among the most successful teams in school history by compiling a 32-2 record, including a 19-1 league mark, en route to the Big 12 championship. Nebraska capped its season with its sixth NCAA Final Four appearance in the program's history before falling to Penn State in the national semifinals.

But as usual, Nebraska hardly has an empty cupboard. Leading the way for the Huskers this season will be junior rightside hitter Nancy Meendering. Meendering was a first-team AVCA All-American in 1998, her first season as a starter, and is a legitimate contender for AVCA National Player-of-the-Year honors. The left-handed hitter burst onto the scene in 1998, pounding out 518 kills, including a career-high 33 against Utah in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. She established herself as one of the nation's elite players by being selected to the U.S. World University Games team during the summer.

At Meendering's side are seniors Mandy Monson and Tonia Tauke. Monson is one of the team's best athletes, and the coaching staff is hoping she will emerge as a game-breaker at the outside hitter position after leading the team in digs the past two seasons.

Tauke enters her season looking to secure her place as one of the best middle blockers in school history by becoming the school's all-time career blocks leader. She is coming off the best offensive season of her career, pounding 260 kills and hitting .333 in 1998.

The biggest void to fill will be the one left by Fiona Nepo, NU's all-time career assist leader. Jill McWilliams, a 6-0 junior, is the top candidate to take over the reigns after serving as Nepo's understudy for the past two seasons.

Junior Angie Oxley will bolster a strong leftside after starting the past two seasons. She is a versatile player and solid defensive force for NU.

Senior Nikki Henk will continue to be a key to the Husker defense as the only NU player to compete in every match the past two seasons.

Nebraska's newest batch of recruits could see immediate playing time, as three players have international talent. The freshmen were named the third-best freshman class by Volleyball Magazine.

So with some of the nation's top returning talent, meshed with an elite recruiting class, NU appears ready to reach for its second national title of the 1990s.

HuskerVision

Enhancing the Husker Gameday Experience

Six years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

When HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, though, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, the HuskerVision crew is headed by Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmah, who is in charge of the control room personnel that includes eight people, while three other members of the staff operate cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rick Schwieger. Shot Kleen is HuskerVision's chief engineer and Kirk Hartman and J.J. Jurgans are the video production specialists.

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

In 1994, Memorial Stadium became the first collegiate football venue to have video replay boards.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. Made possible by a generous donation in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fundraiser Michael Grace, this area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, non-linear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced more than 100 television shows, including the Frank Solich Show, the Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and Pinnacle Bank Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Danny Nee Show and The Pinnacle Bank Women's Basketball Show will be broadcast on a state-wide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

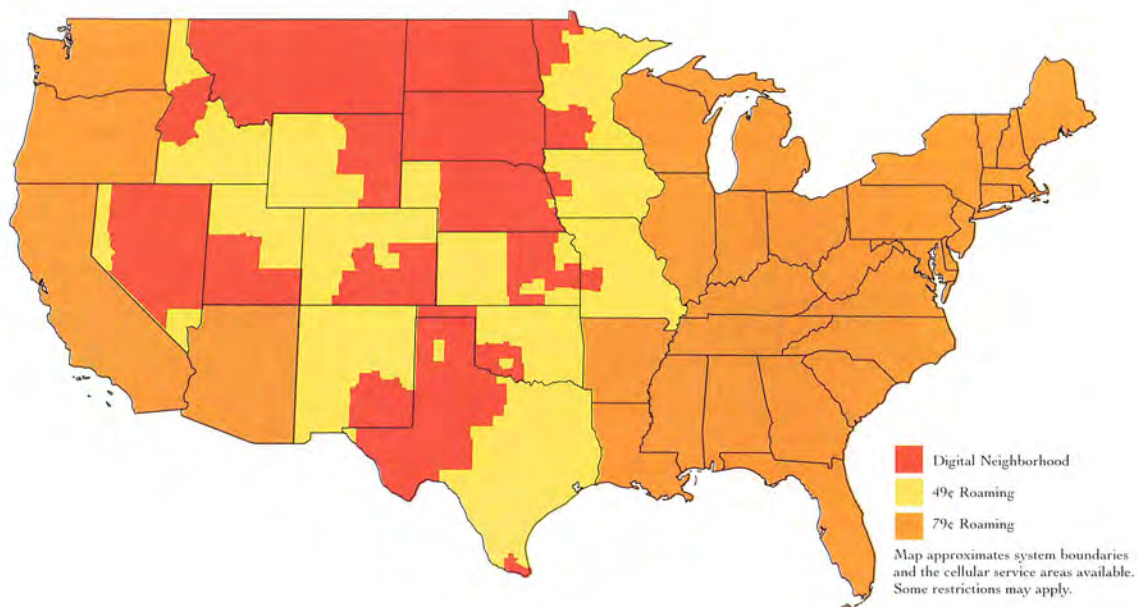

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports and running the new video board in the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. Over the past six years, more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Beginning this fall, HuskerVision will be expanding to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Two giant replay boards will be installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center that will give Husker fans a chance to view replays, features and other entertaining elements made possible by big screens. The Devaney Center HuskerVision boards will be nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney Center screens will be 15 feet high and 26 feet wide, which makes their size compatible with the new HDTV wide screen format. These wide aspect ratio screens will be part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

HuskerVision will also use "cutting edge" technology to get their signal from the control room to the screens. The current control room in Memorial Stadium will be used to send the signal to the new Devaney Center screens. This is possible via fiber optic cable which allows multiple video and audio signals to travel long distances using this new technology.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision. With other improvements on the way, Memorial Stadium is sure to remain one of the nation's most dramatic settings for a college football game.

The Bowl Championship Series

The Road to the National Championship

The Bowl Championship Series will again determine the national championship in 1999.

The BCS will consist of the FedEx Orange, Nokia Sugar, Rose presented by AT&T and Tostitos Fiesta Bowls. The conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and Southeastern conferences.

ABC-TV will televise the four Bowl Championship Series games.

The BCS guarantees a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game. This year, that game will be played at the Nokia Sugar Bowl, on Jan. 4, in New Orleans, La., at 7 p.m. CST.

Any Division I-A independent team or champion of the Western Athletic Conference, Mountain West Conference, Conference USA or any other Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the final BCS standings, will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

Otherwise, any Division I-A team can qualify for selection in the BCS if they have won at least nine college football games during the most recently completed regular season (not to include wins in exempted games) and are ranked in the top 12 of the final BCS standings.

The Louisiana Superdome will be the site of this season's national championship game as the top two teams in the BCS poll will meet on Jan. 4, in New Orleans.

The BCS utilizes its own ranking system which takes into account four major components: 1) an average of coaches and writers polls; 2) an average of eight computer rankings; 3) schedule strength; 4) team's won-loss record.

BCS bowls will again use "regional consideration tie-ins" for team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Other BCS games following the 1999 regular season include the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl on Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. CST, FedEx Orange Bowl on Jan. 1 at 7 p.m. CT and the Rose Bowl presented by AT&T on Jan. 1 at 4 p.m. CST.

The FedEx Orange Bowl will host the national championship game following the 2000 regular season, while the Rose Bowl will play host to the national championship game following the 2001 regular season.

NU Has Averaged Over Five NFL Draft Picks Per Season Since 1954

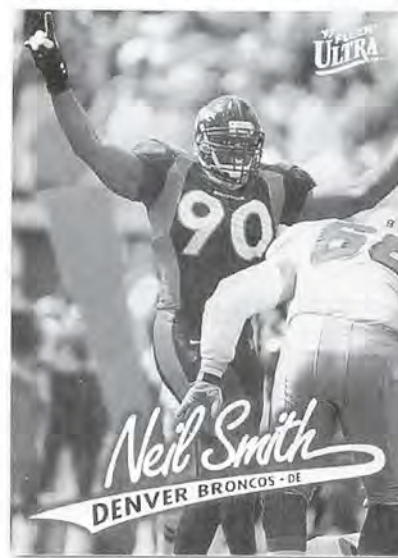

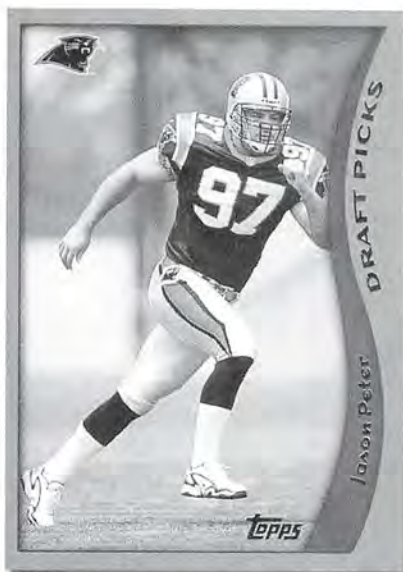

"The University of Nebraska staff encouraged my development as an athlete and as a person. They helped me to be creative, manage my time and build my character, poise and beliefs. The assistance and training I received at Nebraska enabled me to be ready to assume a starting role for the Kansas City Chiefs as a rookie."

Will Shields
1992 Outland Trophy Winner

Jason Peter

Defensive Tackle
1994-97

Jason Peter, a member of three national championship teams at Nebraska, started in 11 contests at left defensive end for the Carolina Panthers in 1998. In his debut season, Peter recorded 45 tackles, a sack, a fumble recovery, a forced fumble and eight quarterback hurries. Peter was taken by Carolina with the 14th pick in the 1998 NFL Draft.

Neil Smith

Defensive End
1984-87

Neil Smith was one of the nation's premier pass rushers at Nebraska. That reputation has carried over into the NFL where he is a six-time Pro Bowl performer with 98 career sacks. Last season, Smith aided the Denver Broncos to their second straight Super Bowl title.

Grant Wistrom

Rush End
1994-97

Grant Wistrom, Nebraska's fourth Lombardi Award winner, was one of two first-round players chosen in the 1998 NFL Draft. A two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, Wistrom was taken with the sixth pick by the St. Louis Rams. As a rookie, Wistrom played in 13 games, recording three sacks, a fumble recovery and 24 tackles.

Will Shields

Offensive Guard
1989-92

Will Shields, who has been with the Kansas City Chiefs for seven years, was a three-year starter for the Huskers and the sixth Outland Trophy winner in NU history. Shields has made four consecutive Pro Bowl appearances and has started in two of the last three contests.

Irving Fryar

Wingback
1980-83

Irving Fryar (1980-83), who was an integral part of the Huskers' "Scoring Explosion," which led the nation in scoring in 1983, retired in 1999 after a stellar 15-year NFL career. The No. 1 pick of the 1984 NFL Draft, Fryar finished with 784 career receptions (seventh, NFL all-time), 11,983 career yards (eighth, NFL all-time) and 77 touchdowns. Fryar spent his first 12 seasons with New England and Miami before finishing in Philadelphia.

Cory Schlesinger

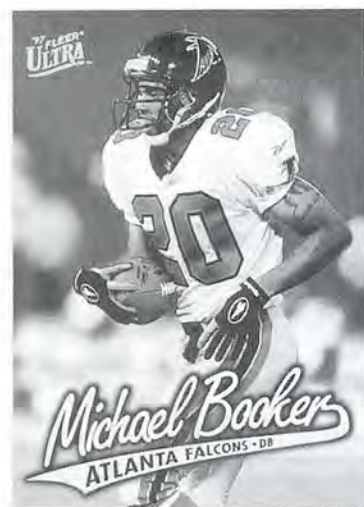

Running Back
1991-94

Cory Schlesinger scored both of NU's fourth quarter touchdowns in the 1994 Orange Bowl against Miami to give Nebraska its first of three national championships in the 1990s. Schlesinger's career has continued in Detroit as one of the team's most productive special teams performers. A premier blocker, Schlesinger has seen action in every game of his four-year NFL career.

Michael Booker

Defensive Back
1993-96

A first-round pick two years ago, Michael Booker ranked second among NFL rookies with three interceptions in 1997 as a member of the Atlanta Falcons defensive backfield. In 1998, Booker started six games, tallied 39 tackles and one interception while aiding Atlanta to its first-ever Super Bowl appearance. The defensive back helped the Huskers to a pair of national championships in 1994 and 1995.

John Parrella

Defensive Tackle
1990-92

One of San Diego's top defensive tackles, John Parrella has started for the Chargers in 41 consecutive games since 1997, racking up five sacks and two fumble recoveries.

Brendan Stai

Offensive Guard
1991-94

Pittsburgh's starting guard, Brendan Stai, will enter his fifth year in black and gold after earning 43 starting assignments during his first five years. Former Huskers Kris Brown and Chad Kelsay also play for the Steelers.

Husker NFL Facts

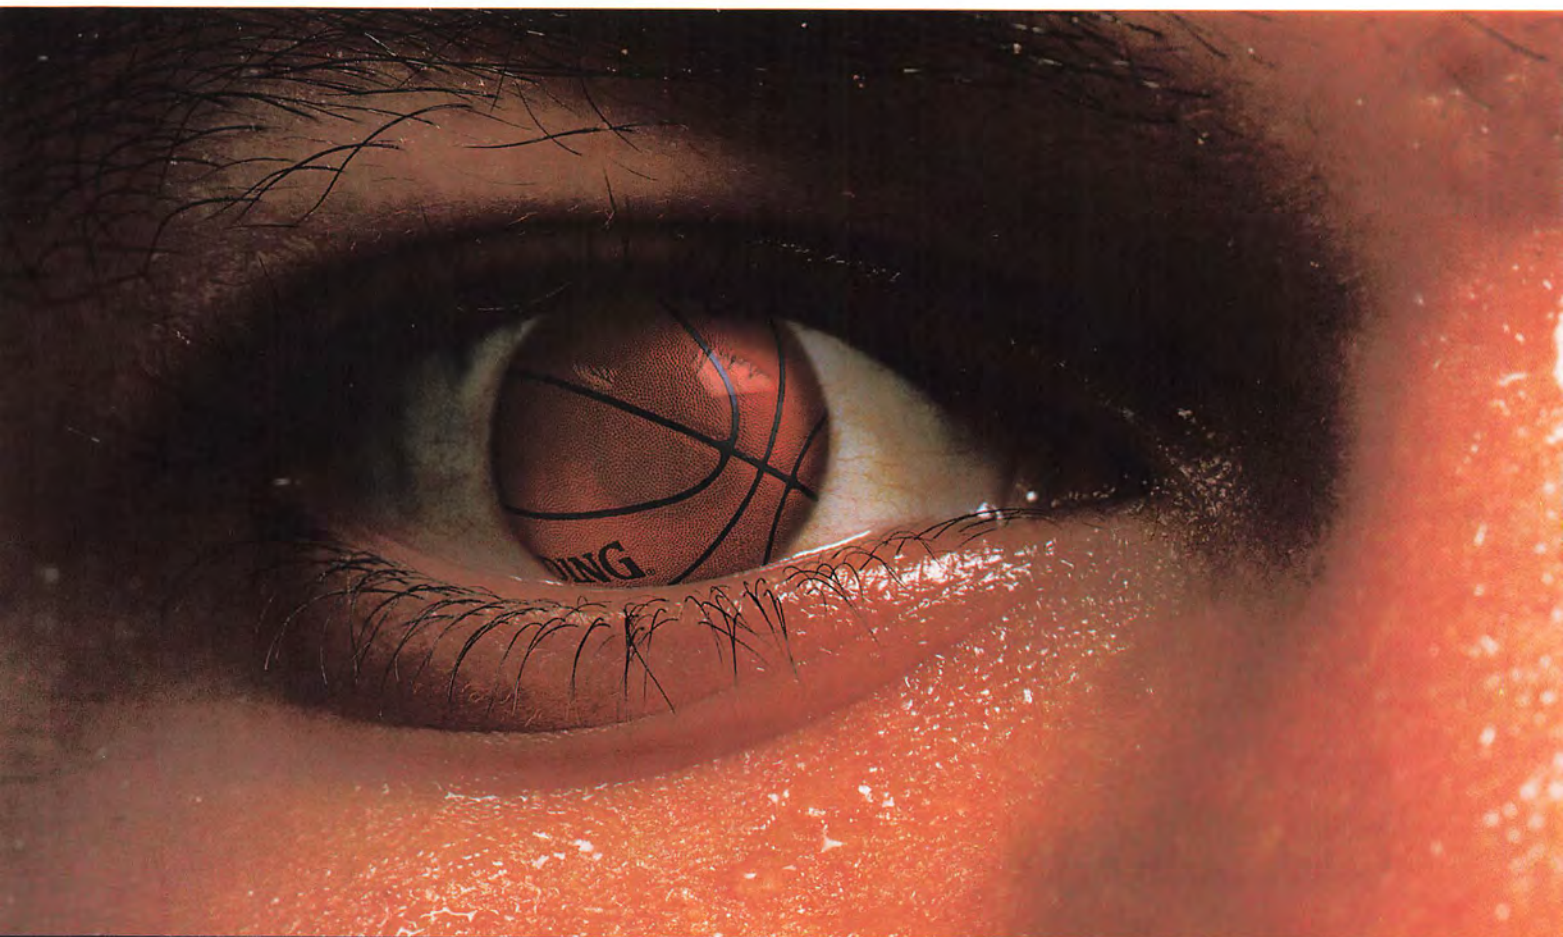

- ◆ In the last 26 years, the number of Husker NFL draft picks has increased to more than seven annually, with 188 total.
- ◆ Nebraska is tied for eighth on the NFL's all-time first-round draft list with 30, including 11 first-round selections in the last 13 drafts.
- ◆ NU's seven draftees in 1999 tied Notre Dame nationally for the most picks from one school and led the Big 12 Conference.
- ◆ Grant Wistrom and Jason Peter were both selected in the top 15 picks in the 1998 draft.
- ◆ Fifty-one players who played for Nebraska sometime during the last five years were either drafted or signed free-agent contracts with NFL teams.
- ◆ In addition to the numerous ball carriers and interior blockers NU has provided to the NFL in the last 11 years, the Huskers have had 20 receivers drafted or signed as free agents, and 14 Husker defensive backs have been selected in the last seven NFL drafts.

Train like the Huskers

Husker Power, the University of Nebraska strength, conditioning and nutrition program, has proven to be the premier program in the country for improving athletes' strength, speed and agility. Now, the program once reserved for Nebraska's collegiate athletes is available to you.

speed • agility • acceleration

"MAKE THE PLAY" PROGRAM BOOKS AND VIDEOS

The "Make the Play" Program is a comprehensive strength, conditioning and nutrition program that includes exercises, drills, workouts and diet information for specific sports. "Make the Play" books are available from Husker Power for basketball, football, soccer and volleyball. "Make the Play" videos are also available for football and volleyball.

SPEED CAMP

In our one-day Speed Camp athletes are provided with a "Make the Play" book and demonstrations to show them the drills that improve speed, power, acceleration and agility. Speed Camp has helped both male and female athletes get on the path to train like the Huskers in the summer as they prepare for fall sports.

PERFORMANCE 101

For high school athletes who are serious about improving performance, Husker Power offers Performance 101, an intense six-week training program in which the athlete executes the "Make the Play" program. This elite summer course has helped athletes make incredible strides in every area of strength and conditioning. No other program has produced the same results for high school students as Performance 101.

A sports tradition for 41 years!

Barry's
BAR & GRILL
9th & Q, Lincoln, Neb.

Barry's has been a fixture for Nebraska fans to celebrate the greatest Husker sports milestones. Let's help the Huskers end the millennium in style! Watch for Barry's on the road this year!

Open 11 a.m. to 1 a.m.
Grill open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.
476-6511

The last season this millennium to see Husker football and enjoy this little type at the bottom of the Barry's ad. Easily, one of the most effective subliminal forms of advertising used since the writing of the Dead Sea Scrolls. Just think, while you're reading this, you are falling under the spell of the Barry's small-type message. You'll think about Husker football. You'll think about Big 12 championships. You'll think about this ad and you'll eat a Barry's burger as soon as possible. Wait until you see our format for the next 1000 years.

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, the Husker Awards Club and the courtesy car program.

Jeff Perino

Quarterback to Coach to Quarterback Journey a Long One

By Jerod Dahlgren

Not many get a second chance at playing after doctors say your career is over. Jeff Perino did, and he is making the most of it.

Perino was given a second chance to play this season two years after doctors told him his knee would hold him out of playing football ever again. The senior from Durango, Colo., has had problems over the last five years stemming from a dislocated kneecap in high school, but after a third surgery and a different rehab program, Perino was able to return to the playing field for his senior season.

"I was thinking that my career was over, and I would never be able to play again," Perino said. "Then all of a sudden I am handed another chance. I worked twice as hard in the off-season and got my speed up. I am as strong and as fast now as I have ever been."

After a medical hardship in 1997 and a position as an undergraduate assistant coach in 1998, Perino returned to the practice field last spring for the first time in more than two years.

"It was the first time I have ever liked practice," Perino said. "I hadn't done it in two years. Coming back felt great. It was pretty exciting, especially with all of the guys behind me."

So far this season, Perino has seen action in four games, rushing for 54 yards on 12 carries.

Perino redshirted during his first season in 1995. Following that year he had a second surgery on his right knee to clean out cartilage that was hampering him.

Heading into his second season, Perino entered the fall right in the thick of things. He was listed even with senior Matt Turman behind projected starter Scott Frost. Perino played in seven games in 1996, attempting two passes and rushing five times for 51 yards. His longest run came against Baylor when he broke free for a 28-yard scamper.

Throughout that season, Perino was bothered by his ailing knee. Heading into spring ball in 1997, Head Coach Tom Osborne approached him about taking a medical hardship.

That summer Perino had the thought in his mind that he would never play again. He began to lose weight and get out of shape. The next school year, Perino attended classes at Nebraska, but did not attend any of the games because it was too painful for him to watch.

"Once I took that medical year, I never thought I was going to play again," Perino said. "The first year especially, I didn't help out with the team and was devastated with what had happened and had to face the fact that I was never going to play again. I really didn't do anything. I just went to school."

When Perino went home for winter break in 1997, he had his third surgery to clean up his right knee. He rehabilitated at his own pace and stayed in a brace longer than before, which left his knee feeling great.

"My last surgery was right after my medical year and my knee started feeling a lot better," Perino said. "So I thought 'I am going to lift really hard and get strong, and if everything works out, I am going to try and come back and play again.'"

After a year away from football, Perino was asked by Coach Frank Solich to come back to the team as an undergraduate assistant coach, helping with the Husker receivers. His main duty on game days was reading defenses from the press box.

Perino enjoyed the coaching side of things, but as his knee began to feel better, thoughts of playing again crossed his mind.

"I still knew the offense, but I had a headset on when they called the plays," Perino said. "As soon as the guys lined up, I got excited because I knew what was going on. I knew what was supposed to happen and when it didn't, I wanted to be out there because I knew what people messed up on and what should have happened."

The thought of playing at Nebraska again never crossed Perino's mind. He had visited with the coaching staff at Montana State and planned on attending school there. Solich found out about his intentions and approached Perino about playing again at Nebraska. He wanted Perino to work out with the team last spring and test the knee. If all went well, he could once again play for the Huskers.

This was an opportunity Perino could not pass up. He took Solich up on the offer, knowing that Nebraska was the only opportunity he would have at playing Division I-A football. He tested out well last spring and applied to the NCAA to be reinstated for his senior season.

"I have been here and I know the system," Perino said. "My classes were lined up for me to graduate. Plus, this was the only school I could have stayed at in Division I and played. So I jumped on that right away."

This season, Perino has used his experience as an undergraduate assistant coach to help him better understand what goes into the coaches' decisions. The skill of being able to look at both sides of issues especially helped him this year when sophomore Eric Crouch became the starting quarterback, and junior Bobby Newcombe moved from quarterback to wingback. While Perino is listed second on the depth chart at quarterback, Solich has said that if Crouch does get injured or is unable to play, he would look to Newcombe to return to his role as starting quarterback.

"I went in and told them that whatever you guys decide is fine with me," Perino said. "I am glad to be the backup when Eric is playing. Of course I would love to play, but whatever is best for the team. Deep down I know that Bobby and Eric are great athletes, and I am not ashamed to be behind either one of those guys."

Crouch was not surprised at Perino's willingness to do what ever he could to help out the team.

"That's the type of person Jeff is," Crouch said. "He is willing to do whatever he can do to contribute to the team. Last year, he helped out with the coaching side, and now he is back playing. He always makes sure we are doing the right thing."

Quarterbacks coach Turner Gill feels that Perino has been a great asset to this football team.

"Jeff is a person in life you love to have working with you," Gill said. "He is the type of person you can always count on, which makes him a great compliment to this football team."

"The thing that impresses me the most is his dedication to football and to life. He has had to overcome a lot of obstacles on his way to where he is today. It would have been easy for him just to give up, but he worked his way back, and that's what makes him a successful person now and in the future."

Perino, who plans to graduate in next December with a degree in civil engineering, knows his role has changed since his arrival five years ago.

"I feel old. Coming in here it was a little intimidating. Everyone was bigger and older. Now, I am the oldest guy here. Now, I am not intimidated by the coaches anymore. I can talk to them and play around and joke with them. It's a lot more fun and relaxed. I feel like a veteran out here."

Jeff Perino, NU's No. 2 QB, was a student assistant coach for the Huskers last season.

Growing up today can be a struggle. Dealing with the pressures of our world forces a kid to become a grown up before he or she even gets the chance to be a kid. That's where Pacific Pals comes in; providing events that are not only a blast to attend, but also inspirational. Pacific Pals' events awaken new interests, introduce real-life role models, and give children the opportunity to dream of all that they can be.

Be a Pal! Call Pacific Pals at (402) 345-5866 to find out how you or your corporation can help provide children the chance to dream and the inspiration to make their dreams reality.

Memorial Stadium Improvement Project

Benefitting both Student-Athletes and Husker Fans

Long a program steeped in tradition and stability, change is not a word thrown around lightly with Nebraska football -- a program that has seen only three head coaches since 1962 and played in the same stadium since Memorial Stadium's opening in 1923.

In 1999, one addition will be apparent, as the home of the Huskers receives a facelift with the completion of the Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, a $36.1 million dollar construction effort that began in 1997.

Several of the changes to the landmark facility are obvious, such as the new media facility, 42 skybox suites, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, renovated concourses, permanent lights and tripling the number of restrooms. Others, such as doubling the size of the East and West Concourse areas and waterproofing throughout the stadium, will not be obvious to the majority of Husker fans.

According to Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne, these additions are important to the long-term success of the athletic department.

"This project encompasses so much and will not only benefit the Nebraska football program, but all of our athletic programs," Byrne said. "The purpose and benefits go way beyond skyboxes and a media facility. Having facilities that rank among the best cannot be underestimated. This is a revenue-generating project that will secure Nebraska's future to come.

"The plan will take us well into the 21st century with a stadium that was built in 1923."

The first extensive renovation to Memorial Stadium in almost 30 years, the project was designed by DLR Sports Group and Sinclair Hille and Associates, and will add 62,000 square feet, increasing the capacity to 74,056 from its previous total of 72,700.

The revenue for this project comes from the lease of the 42 skybox suites. Ten of the suites were leased to Premier Circle contributors, who gave a one-time contribution of $2 million dollars for a 25-year contract, while 29 more were leased to Cornerstone contributors, who give $75,000 each year for 10 years. Three of the skybox suites are reserved for university use.

To put that into perspective, the cost of building Memorial Stadium in 1923 was only $450,000 and the cost of the old press box was $400,000 in 1967.

The revenues from this project will benefit a variety of athletic facilities projects, including the downtown baseball/softball complex, the new indoor and outdoor tracks and new grass practice fields.

With several other Big 12 schools in the midst of extensive renovation projects, Byrne said the support of the project will help the Huskers stay ahead of other conference schools and help NU successfully compete on the national level.

"When we first began this project, the response was remarkable," Byrne said. "Our contributors were not only from Nebraska, but came from all across the country, which speaks well for the broad base of support that Nebraska football receives."

"Our teams count on the support of financial donations, and we are grateful to everyone who stepped up to the plate on this project. Everyone benefits from this project -- our student-athletes and our fans."

Head Coach Frank Solich agrees that these facility upgrades, including the installation of the FieldTurf surface before this season, are important in recruiting.

"Facilities such as this are essential when recruiting the best athletes from across the country," Solich said.

The most impressive feature are the 42 skybox suites, which each measure 24 feet by 29 feet. Each can hold up to 28 spectators and include 20 seats, a lounge area, a kitchen area, a bathroom and a coat area.

According to Byrne, NU's skybox suites will be among the best in the nation.

"We traveled to more than a dozen stadiums, both at the collegiate and the professional levels in looking at various options," Byrne said. "Our suites compare very favorably with any in the United States."

In addition to the skybox suites, the club seating in the balcony has expanded from approximately 350 to more than 1,500 and the entire 300 level on the second floor of the press box has been recreated. The new 300 level also has an expanded lobby area and the stadium view lounge.

Another important part of the renovation is the new media facility in the West Stadium. With three national championships in five years, increased media exposure has made the press box a cramped, crowded place during home games.

The new Don Bryant Media Facility will seat roughly 200 members of the media, and also includes television truck docks, cable rooms and a state-of-the-art national television broadcast booth, allowing NU to easily handle more media requests.

Public tours of the new facility will be scheduled around Homecoming events.

This season, the exterior may have a different look, but Coach Solich and the Huskers will look to continue the same winning tradition that has always been in Memorial Stadium.

A Chronological History of Nebraska's Media Facility

1967--The new $400,000 press box with a special guest section added was completed, providing a beautiful and practical press facility at Memorial Stadium.

Sept. 30, 1967--Nebraska posts its first victory in front of the new press box with a 7-0 win over Minnesota.

Nov. 23, 1967--Nebraska plays its first televised home game with the new press box. The Huskers lost to Oklahoma, 21-14, in front of an ABC national television audience.

Sept. 27, 1969--The Huskers post their first home television victory since the completion of press box construction with a 14-0 win over Texas A&M in an ABC regional broadcast.

Nov. 1, 1969--Nebraska posted its first win over a ranked opponent in front of the press box with a 20-7 win over No. 18 Colorado.

1980--The top deck of the press box was completed, allowing for additional photo and visiting radio and television space.

Sept. 6, 1986--Nebraska defeats Florida State, 34-17, in the first night game in Memorial Stadium history, which was televised nationally by ABC.

Sept. 1994--Two Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards were installed, making Memorial Stadium the first collegiate-owned venue with big screen replay boards.

Aug. 1995--The Michael Grace Production Studio was also completed in the West Stadium. The facility was named in honor of former Husker player and NU Foundation fundraiser Michael Grace.

July 13, 1996--The University of Nebraska Board of Regents approved the Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, with a completion date set for September of 1999.

Aug. 18, 1998--The final steel beam was placed on the structure's surface in the traditional "topping out" ceremony.

Nov. 27, 1998--The Huskers play the final game in front of the old press box, a 16-14 victory over Colorado.

Nov. 28, 1998--Construction on the new media facility began as the old press box was taken down piece by piece, taking several weeks to complete.

Sept. 11, 1999--Nebraska plays the first game in front in the new media facility against California on ABC television. The Don Bryant Media Facility was dedicated in honor of longtime Nebraska Sports Information Director Don "Fox" Bryant.

Nebraska Records With the Old Press Box

◆ From 1967 to 1998, the Huskers posted a home mark of 169-23-0 (.880 winning percentage) with the old press box.

◆ The Huskers finished with a 42-14 record (.750 winning percentage) in televised home games with the old press box, including a 19-game winning streak that began with a 19-14 win over Oklahoma on Nov. 29, 1991, and ended with a 20-16 loss to Texas on Oct. 31, 1998.

◆ Nebraska finished with a 34-16 record (.680 winning percentage) against ranked opponents in front of the old press box, including wins over the Huskers' last 12 ranked opponents at Memorial Stadium.

Athletic Compliance

A Guide for Husker Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the NCAA and Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many Alumni, Fans and Booster Club Members who are so active in supporting and encouraging the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind you of a few definitions and rules that apply to you being an Athletics Representative.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control: It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletics program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility: The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletics interests of the institution.

Compliance: The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Prospective Student-Athlete: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. Younger students may also be considered a prospect, so a good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the athletics staff or other representative of athletics interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletics program.

Contact: A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletics representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletics representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in the institution's intercollegiate athletics program.

Extra Benefit: An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or an athletics representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Athletics Representative: You are considered to be a University of Nebraska Athletics Representative if you:

- Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletics program;

- Have made financial contributions to the athletics department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;

- Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled athletes or their family members;

- Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletics program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an Athletics Representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Reminders

A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.

A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, family members or friends.

A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relatives or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.

A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, telephone calling or other forms of communication.

A booster may not provide a student-athlete any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans of any amount, signing or co-signing for a loan, providing the use of an automobile or telephone, and free or reduced housing.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker Booster may be involved.....

- Do discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.

- Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.

- Do attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.

- Do continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.

- Do send recommendation letters, newspaper clipping or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletics Representatives, please contact the Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220.

Iowa St. 60%

Baylor 60%

Missouri 56%

Texas 56%

National Average 52%

*Big 12 Football Graduation Rates as of June, 1998

High Grad Rate

As of July 1998, more than 86 percent of scholarship athletes who have exhausted their eligibility at Nebraska have graduated, which is well above the national average. Nebraska's 1997 NCAA football graduation rate of 63 percent also topped the Big 12.

Leading The Nation

Nebraska leads the nation in GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America selections for football and all sports combined. The Hewit and Boekel Academic Center provide student-athletes with counselors and a newly refurbished 51-terminal computer lab.

Academic All-Americans

Fifty-five Nebraska football players have earned GTE/CoSIDA first-team Academic All-America status, including 49 selections in the last 26 seasons. In all sports, Nebraska has the highest number of first-, second- and third-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in the nation with 164 – 50 more than any other school. Ninety-four athletes have earned first-team honors, including 19 since 1990.

Postgraduate Scholarships

Since 1988, NU football players have earned National Football Foundation/Hall of Fame and NCAA postgraduate scholarships. Seventeen Huskers have received NFF/HOF postgraduate scholarships, while 27 NU players have been awarded with postgraduate funding from the NCAA. Eighteen Huskers have been named to scholar-athlete and leadership teams sponsored by NACDA/Disney, Burger King, CFA/Hitachi and Toyota.

'School Is Cool' Jam

Nebraska athletes, coaches and staff hosted the eighth-annual 'School Is Cool' Jam in 1999, attracting more than 14,000 youth to the Devaney Sports Center. Both the NCAA and the National Consortium for Academics and Sports have endorsed the nationally acclaimed 'School Is Cool' Jam, which features insights from Husker coaches and athletes, Husker mascots Herbie Husker and 'Lil Red and many audience participation-based activities. Designed to stimulate interest in continuing education and establishing role models for students, the Dedicated to Excellence Tour travels throughout the state annually to promote the importance of school.

Caring Athletes

Whether traveling with the Dedicated to Excellence Tour or visiting local schools and hospitals, Nebraska football players always give generously of their time to spend with children.

NCAA Top Eight Award

Husker football players have earned nine of NU's nation-leading 13 NCAA Today Top Eight Awards. Past football honorees include: Randy Schleusener (1981), Dave Rimington (1981), Mark Traynowicz (1985), Jake Young (1990), Pat Tyrance (1991), Trev Alberts (1993), Rob Zatechka (1994), Aaron Graham (1995) and Grant Wistrom (1997). The nine football winners are the most of any individual program.

University of Nebraska Academic Facts

- ◆ Husker football athletes consistently top the academic all-conference list. Last season, Nebraska was once again at the head of the class with 22 first-team selections and five honorable-mention honorees. The next closest school recorded 14 first-team selections.
- ◆ Nebraska student-athletes who continued with graduate school received more than $76,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1998.
- ◆ The Nebraska program was one of seven schools to receive the Champs/Life Skills Program of Excellence Award in 1999 as presented by the Division I-A Athletic Directors. NU was honored in recognition of a comprehensive and successful life skills program for all student-athletes.
- ◆ Nebraska has been tabbed one of 36 flagship universities and is considered one of the best values among the nation's colleges and universities by the Center for Studies in College Enrollment.
- ◆ The Nebraska football team was one of just seven Division I top 25 teams who recorded a graduation rate of 65 percent or better in 1998.
- ◆ The University of Nebraska was reclassified as a Research University I in 1994 by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. That distinction is the highest possible classification a university can earn.
- ◆ At Nebraska, a knowledgeable academic support staff provides academic guidance, personal support and a three-step Professional Development Counseling program that includes career exploration, career planning and career & graduate school placement.
- ◆ Husker linebacker Brian Shaw enters his senior season maintaining a 4.0 cumulative grade-point average in his major of Animal Science. Shaw will contend for all major conference and national academic awards during the 1999-2000 season.

Pinnacle Sports Productions

The Radio Voice of Husker Athletics

Warren Swain
Play-by-Play

Adrian Fiala
Color

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its fourth year of producing live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska sporting events. Pinnacle purchased the rights on Feb. 9, 1996, and was approved by the board of regents on Feb. 24.

The Pinnacle Sports contract began with the 1996-97 season and runs through the 2000-2001 season. It includes the exclusive radio broadcast rights to Nebraska football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball and volleyball. The contract has guaranteed rights fees of $8.6 million over five years. In addition to game coverage, Pinnacle Sports provides a daily, live call-in show focusing on NU athletics and other sports in the area. Pinnacle Sports Productions is owned by Dale Jensen of Phoenix, Ariz., and Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. KKAR (1290 AM) and KXFX (101.9 FM) are the Omaha affiliates and KLIN (1400 AM) and KFGE (98.1 FM) are the Lincoln affiliates. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 61-station network, including 37 in-state and 24 out-of-state stations, covering 14 states.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., is president of Pinnacle Sports Productions. His staff includes Patty Aaron, Joni Woodruff (marketing) and Elizabeth Pate (office manager).

Play-by-Play Announcer Warren Swain

Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his fourth year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster of the Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Golden Spikes games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. He has provided color commentary for the Nebraska baseball team for the past 10 seasons. Former Huskers Terry Connealy and Jerry Tagge are also a part of the football broadcast team. Connealy is a statistician and Tagge is a sideline reporter. Mike Elliott serves as technical director.

Jim Rose (KLIN) and Gary Java (KKAR) are also a part of the network crew. Other announcers include KLIN's Gary Sharp, John Baylor, John Bishop and NU Director of Basketball Operations Nick Joos (men's basketball color).

Registration

Boys who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall are eligible to attend the Big Red Football School. The fee is $190. An advance registration deposit of $100 must accompany each application. The balance is due at registration time. There will be no refund of fees after the athlete has been accepted in school. Housing is provided in one of the University's residence halls, where breakfast, lunch and dinner are included in the $190 fee.

Campers that live close to the University may stay with their parents if approved--an adjustment in fees will be made in this case. Attached is an application form which should be filled out and sent at once to: Big Red Football School, 217 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880125, Lincoln, NE 68588. Make checks payable to: Big Red Football School.

Sessions

During each session, Frank Solich and his staff will give personal instruction on individual techniques and fundamentals daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Lectures will be given after lunch by Coach Solich (motivation) and Nebraska's strength coach, Boyd Epley (strength training). Evening sessions will be devoted to specialty work and team competition. During the camp you will also have the opportunity to lift weights under the supervision of Boyd Epley and his staff. Although all four sessions are individual camps, groups of players or teams are encouraged to attend.

Husker Soccer

Aims for Big 12 Title and Women's College Cup

Sharolta Nonen

With the most talented and deepest group of Huskers in school history, the Nebraska soccer team enters the 1999 season with its sights set on contending for the Big 12 and national title.

The Huskers, who have produced a 58-9-1 record over the past three seasons, have finished among the top 10 teams in the nation each of the past three seasons, and appear to be poised to make the next step in reaching the NCAA Women's College Cup in San Jose, Calif., Dec. 3-5.

Nebraska Coach John Walker, who has led the Huskers to a pair of Big 12 Tournament titles, said the Huskers have set their sights high.

"At Nebraska, the goal will always be to win a national championship," Walker said. "Some people might say that's silly because only one team can win it and there are more than 260 teams, but why not us? Why not Nebraska? Let's do what it takes to make it Nebraska."

The Huskers return nine starters, including eight starters from the team that finished 17-4-1 and advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive season. Nebraska will also regain the services of two-time All-Big 12 midfielder Jenny Benson, who missed the 1998 season with a torn ACL.

Senior All-America defenders Sharolta Nonen and Isabelle Morneau anchor Nebraska's defense, which returns all four starters, including junior defender Christine Gluck and junior goalkeeper Karina LeBlanc.

Senior All-America forward Lindsay Eddleman and All-Big 12 midfielders Amy Walsh and Meghan Anderson will lead a powerful Husker attack. Junior forward Lauren Tatum is also expected to earn a place in Nebraska's starting lineup.

The Huskers will need to compensate for the loss of three starters, including forward Kim Engesser, who led the Big 12 and ranked fifth nationally with 61 points and 27 goals last season. Becky Hogan and Kristen Gay, who each spent four years in Nebraska's starting lineup, must also be replaced.

Sophomores Becky Preston, Kelly Rheem, Shannon Tanaka and Najah Williams will be leading contenders for starting spots, while Danica Carey and Karla Ledford may also contend for playing time. The Huskers should also be bolstered by one of the nation's strongest recruiting classes, led by Gatorade National Player-of-the-Year finalist Kori

Saunders from Overland Park, Kan. Another Kansas City area prospect, Brooke Jones, Nebraska Player-of-the-Year Paige Phillips and 1997 Colorado Player-of-the-Year Michelle Culbertson could also contend for playing time, along with Canadian Under-20 National Team members Breanna Boyd, Christine Latham and Cindy Walsh. Leah Lamale should provide depth at goalkeeper in her first year with the Huskers.

Husker Wrestling

Talented NU Team Sets Sights On National Success

Bryan Snyder

With a talented lineup that includes two returning All-Americans and six NCAA qualifiers, the Nebraska wrestling team has the potential to make the 1999-2000 season one of the most memorable seasons in the program's history.

The Huskers look to build on a successful 1998-99 season that included a 15th-place NCAA finish, fourth-place Big 12 Conference finish and a 17-6 dual mark—NU's best dual record since the 1994-95 campaign.

"Last season we had a good year, and I said then that it would probably be our worst year in the next three or four years," Head Coach Tim Neumann said. "We have a lot of young wrestlers who are ready to break out and take it to the next level. I'm really excited about the caliber of talent we'll be putting out on the mat."

Although the Huskers lose All-American Jose DeAnda and NCAA qualifier Scott Munson, four national championship qualifiers from last season return for action, including All-Americans Bryan Snyder (157 pounds) and Brad Vering (197). Senior Paul Gomez (125) and sophomore Joe Henson (149) also give the Huskers a pair of wrestlers with NCAA experience.

Sophomore Justin Flores, who is listed as the No. 2 132-pounder on the United States' 2000 Olympic Judo Team, appears to be the frontrunner for DeAnda's starting job at 141 pounds. Replacing Munson will be Vering, who moves from 184 pounds to 197 pounds this season. One of the nation's top competitors at 184 pounds a year ago, Vering posted a record of 26-9 and finished fourth at the NCAA Championships.

Snyder, NU's lone Big 12 champion last season, became the second-highest finishing freshman in school history at the 1999 NCAA Championships with a fourth-place finish. During a stellar freshman campaign, Snyder posted an overall record of 32-5 and an 18-3 dual mark.

Other projected starters include junior Todd Beckerman (133), sophomore Josh Henson (165), junior Ati Conner (174), junior Charles McTorry (184) and true freshman Pat Miron (Hwt).

With an incoming six-member recruiting class that has been ranked among the nation's top three, NU also has plenty of depth. Most of the newcomers will likely redshirt this season, although Miron is expected to occupy the starting position at heavy-weight.

The 1999-2000 Husker wrestling schedule includes six home dates—four home duals (with a fifth dual against Missouri in South Sioux City, Neb., as the annual "home away from home" dual), one home open tournament and the Big 12 Championships, which will be held in Lincoln on March 4, 2000. The 2000 NCAA Championships are scheduled for March 16-18 in St. Louis, Mo.

"It should be an exciting year for Nebraska wrestling," Neumann said. "We are approaching the season with great enthusiasm for what we're capable of accomplishing."

Husker Women's Gymnastics

NU Looks for Seventh Straight Conference Title

Heather Brink

Coming off the program's second appearance in the NCAA Super Six Finals in the past three years, the Nebraska women's gymnastics team has established itself as one of the nation's premier programs. The Huskers have won the Big Eight/Big 12 title in each of the past six seasons, qualifying for the NAAs in four of the past five seasons.

Despite losing a pair of All-Americans, Coach Dan Kendig knows the outlook for this season's team is bright with six letterwinners returning and a strong recruiting class.

"We are excited about the upcoming season," Kendig, the 1999 NCAA Coach of the Year, said. "The key will be how quickly the freshmen adjust to this level of competition. I feel good about the talent we have, among both our upperclassmen and the newcomers. If we let them use their strengths, we should have a successful season."

The Huskers will be led by Heather Brink, a senior who will look to become the first female gymnast in conference history to win three straight all-around titles. The most decorated female gymnast in school history, Brink spent part of this past summer representing the United States in the World University Games, qualifying for the finals in the all-around and on vault. Last season, Brink tied Misty Oxford for the Big 12 all-around title, while finishing fifth at the NCAA Championships in the all-around and fourth on floor exercise.

Seniors Nicole Wilkinson and Laura Ohlendorf join Brink in providing much of the leadership. A pair of three-year letterwinners, Wilkinson and Ohlendorf have been instrumental in helping the Big Red to the national elite. Wilkinson, a two-time All-Big 12 selection, is the Huskers' top returnee on balance beam, where she tied for first at the Region 3 Championships with a 9.90. Wilkinson also competed in the all-around on four occasions last season, scoring a 39 or better three times.

After battling injuries for most of her first two seasons, Ohlendorf enjoyed a healthy 1999 season, earning a spot on NU's floor exercise and uneven bars lineups with her consistency, hitting 20 of 21 routines in 1999. She tied or set career bests in both events, including a 9.875 on floor exercise at regionals and a 9.825 on uneven bars at the Big 12 meet.

Junior Amy Ringo and sophomores Bree Dority and Laura Goss round out the returning letterwinners. Ringo will also look to earn a spot in three events. The junior from Phoenix, Ariz., was tied for second on floor exercise at the NCAA regional with a career-high score of 9.90. Ringo also competed on vault and balance beam last season, setting career bests on both events.

Dority, last season's Big 12 Newcomer of the Year, turned in her best performances in the postseason where she finished 17th in the all-around at the NCAA Championships, just missing out on All-America honors. The sophomore from Kearney scored a career best of 39.15 during the preliminaries.

Seniors Arica and Alisha Lamb, juniors Kathy Ligon and Stacie Sizer, and sophomore Andrea Kazeck will be counted on to provide depth in the lineup.

A talented freshmen class consisting of Jennifer French, Julie Houk, A.J. Lamb and Jessica Wertz may be counted on to make an immediate contribution in the Husker lineup this season. All four have extensive gymnastics backgrounds and have competed at the Junior Olympic National meets.

Husker Men's Gymnastics

NU Makes Run at Ninth NCAA Title

Jason Hardabura

It is easy to see why the always-optimistic Francis Allen is chomping at the bit to begin the 2000 season. After finishing last season with a 16-2-1 record and a third-place showing at the NCAA Championships, his Huskers have all the pieces for a national title run this year.

NCAA all-around champion Jason Hardabura and All-Americans Derek Leiter and Blake Bukacek headline the six letterwinners to the Husker lineup, as the Huskers lose only two-time All-American Jim Koziol. In addition, Allen welcomes back three-time

NCAA champion Marshall Nelson, who missed all of last season with a torn ACL.

"With the people we return from last season, and the addition of Marshall and Asher (Lichterman) to our lineup, we are in a great position to compete for the title this season," Allen said. "Jason and Derek give us the best 1-2 duo in the all-around in the country, and our depth will be better this year."

Hardabura, a junior from Oakville, Ontario, capped a magnificent sophomore campaign by winning the all-around and floor exercise titles at the NCAA Championships in Lincoln. The 1999 Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Gymnast of the Year, Hardabura won nine all-around titles last season and ranked first nationally in the all-around, posting five scores of 58 or better.

Leiter also enjoyed a solid junior campaign last year, despite a back injury that kept him at less than 100 percent for much of the season. A senior from Lincoln, Leiter finished second to Hardabura at both the MPSF Championships and the West Regional before finishing 10th at the NCAA meet. Last season, Leiter ranked first nationally on vault and was fourth in the all-around, while also finishing eighth on floor exercise at the NAAs.

Sometimes overshadowed by NU's all-arounders, Bukacek earned his first All-America certificate with a runner-up finish on the high bar. A former walk-on from Lincoln, Bukacek was a valuable performer for the Huskers throughout the season, setting career highs on three events last season, including a 9.85 on high bar at the MPSF Championships.

One of the finest individual event performers in school history, Nelson has earned six All-America honors, on four different events. He won back-to-back NCAA parallel bars titles in 1997 and 1998. The Greeley, Colo., native was 1998 MPSF Gymnast of the Year after qualifying for the NAAs on four events. Nelson, along with Leiter, are two of the favorites for the Nissen-Emery Award, presented to the top senior gymnast in the nation.

Sophomore Martin Fournier, junior Grant Clinton and senior transfer Asher Lichterman, will round out the all-around lineup.

A member of the Canadian National Team, Fournier competed in the all-around as a freshman, finishing 16th at the NCAA Championships. His showing was the second-best by a freshman last season, and he will be counted on heavily this season. Fournier placed second on parallel bars at the MPSF Championships.

Clinton, who joined the team at the start of the season, was one of NU's best performers during the postseason, setting career highs on three events at NCAA regional and championship meets.

Lichterman, a three-time NCAA qualifier, transferred to Nebraska from New Mexico and won the MPSF title on vault last season. He will greatly help the Huskers on both still rings, where he has ranked in the top 20 nationally in each of the past three seasons, and on vault, where he finished eighth at the NCAA Championships.

Sophomores Dusty Jakub and Jeff Kelly also return after suffering season-ending injuries in 1999. Jakub is a strong performer on three events, while Kelly provides depth on vault and rings.

Husker Cross Country

NU Looks to Return to Big 12 Elite in 1999

Nebraska's cross country teams look forward to the 1999 season after numerous injuries led to a disappointing 1998 season.

The Husker women's seventh-place at the Big 12 Championships marked the first time NU has not finished in the top four at the conference meet since 1984, while the Husker men did not qualify for the NCAA Championships for the first time since 1995.

Coach Jay Dirksen is optimistic about the 1999 season, as both the men's and women's teams return the majority of their lineups from a season ago. In addition, a talented group of newcomers will look to propel the Huskers into the elite in the Big 12 and the nation.

Jeannette Zimmer

Women's Outlook

Despite winning only one meet and finishing fourth at the NCAA regional in 1998, the Husker women continued to improve throughout the season and qualified for the NCAA Championships for the third straight year.

Traditionally, the Huskers have been among the nation's top programs, qualifying for the NCAA Championships in 10 of the past 12 seasons. They annually face one of the toughest schedules in the country. Last season, the Huskers won the Woody Greeno/Nebraska Invitational and lost to only one team that did not qualify for the NCAAs. In fact, the top seven teams in the Big 12 and the top five teams in the district all qualified for the 1998 NCAA Championships.

Dirksen is looking forward to the Huskers returning to the NCAAs for the eighth time in the past nine seasons.

"I feel that this year's team has the potential to be better than last year," Dirksen said. "Last year was deceiving. We had a tough schedule and ran in one of the toughest conferences in the country and still had a successful season. Potentially, we have the personnel returning to accomplish more this season."

Senior Jaime Pauli returns for her final year of competition as the team captain. A strong competitor, Pauli has progressed to the point where she will be among the top runners in each meet this fall. As a freshman, Jeannette Zimmer was the Huskers' No. 1 runner in each meet last season, including a 12th-place finish at the Big 12 Championships, an 11th-place finish at the NCAA Regional and 70th-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

The Huskers will also count on returning letterwinners to help bring a conference crown to Lincoln. Senior Melinda Oliver and juniors Amie Finkner and Deb Osteen have made improvements from last season and with their previous championship experience will aid in leading the team this season. Others returning to contend for the top-seven team include sophomores Jenna Lucas, who was voted the team's most improved runner in 1998, and Steph Stewart. Both runners have trained well during the summer and have made strides since last season.

In addition to the returnees, Dirksen welcomes a five-member recruiting class that could make an immediate impact in the Big 12. Senior Michelle Brooks joins the Husker squad after earning a spot on England's junior national team. She brings a wealth of international experience to Lincoln and could be the frontrunner to turn the Huskers into one of the best teams in the conference. Jaimie Kruger, a junior transfer from the University of Nebraska at Kearney, may surprise many this season. Kruger was the No. 1 runner at UNK during her first two seasons and has improved to a level where she could make contributions to the team this fall.

The Huskers add three more to the roster this season. Melissa Drozda, Kathryn Handrup and Christy Linnell will increase the depth and quality of the 1999 team. Handrup was the three-time Class B cross country champion in Nebraska, while Drozda and Linnell both show promise as they make the transition from high school to collegiate running.

Tony Smith

Men's Outlook

Following a tough 1998 season, significant improvement is expected for the Husker men this season. Dirksen's optimism centers on the return of four letterwinners from last season's team and the addition of one of the strongest freshman classes in school history.

"I expect us to be better than last year," Dirksen said. "We have a number of newcomers who can make a significant impact, while our four returnees have shown improvement from last year. I think we have one of our best recruiting classes since I have been here, and our success will depend on how quickly our newcomers can develop."

Senior Tony Smith returns to the Husker squad as the team captain. According to Dirksen, Smith is much stronger and confident than a year ago after transferring from the College of Southern Idaho. Following fifth-place finishes in both the indoor and outdoor 1,500-meters run at the Big 12 Track and Field Championships, Smith has shown he can run with the best runners in the conference.

Junior Marcus

Witter also returns to the NU lineup after gaining experience last season, when he was the Huskers' top finisher in four of the final six meets. Witter enters the fall as healthy as he has been at Nebraska and could be one of the Big 12's top runners this season.

The Huskers also return juniors Aaron Carrizales and Todd Tripple, who were regulars in the Husker lineup last season. Despite suffering from injuries that kept both out of action during the 1999 track season, Carrizales and Tripple have had good summers training and will be counted on for leadership and depth.

Redshirt freshman Phillip Davis is also expected to improve this season after using a year to train at the collegiate level.

Immediate help should come from one of the best freshman classes in school history. The development and contribution from freshmen Jed Barta, James DeBruhl, Ian Gray, Mike Kamm and Hunter Kosman, will go a long way into determining the success of the 1999 season.

Barta was 17th at the 1998 Foot Locker National High School Cross Country Championships, and his best marks of 4:12.67, 9:01.71 and 14:58.61 for 1,600, 3,200, and 5,000 meters, respectively, rank him among the best distance runners in the country.

DeBruhl, the third-place finisher at the California state meet, has a 4:13.14 personal best for 1,600 meters and helped his team to a fourth-place finish at the state championships last fall.

Gray, who is from Eugene, Ore., ran only one year of high school track and did not compete on his high school cross country team. During the past year of training with his father as his coach, Gray has become much stronger, running personal bests of 15:12.68 and 31:07.00 for the 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Kamm was the Washington Class 3A 800-meter champion (1:53.52), and finished third in the 1,600 meters (4:15.89) and notched a fourth-place performance in the Class 3A cross country championship in a state rich in distance talent. Kosman was the Nebraska Class B cross country runner-up in 1998, leading Scottsbluff to a state title last year.

Songs of the University of Nebraska

Tunes to Cheer on the Huskers

The Alma Mater

Refrain:

Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse 1

We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3

When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know,
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

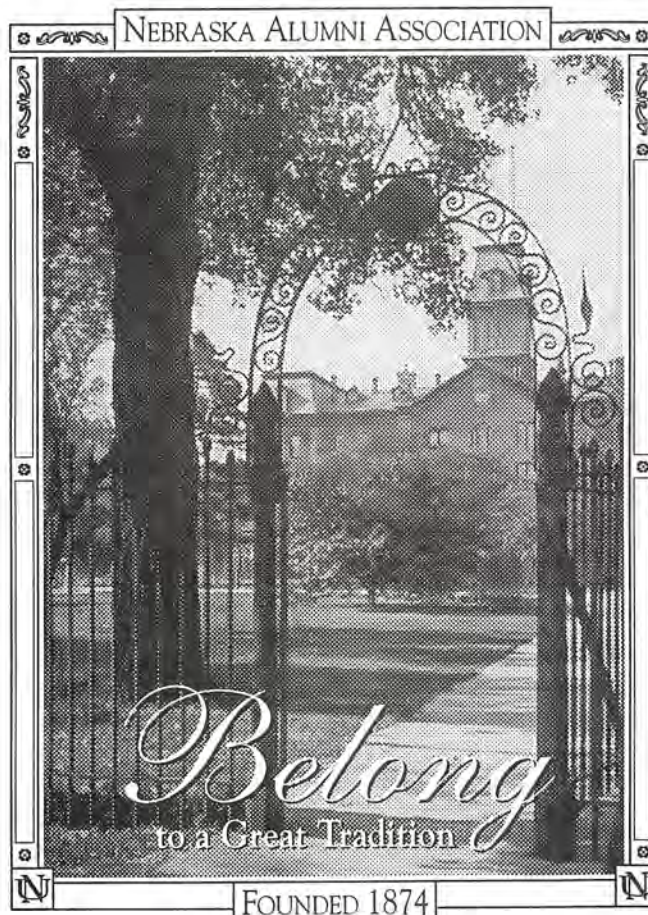

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The official field song for Nebraska

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

1970 National Champions

Huskers Win First National Title

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season, was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later. Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final

AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

Husker quarterback Jerry Tagge stretches the ball over the goal line for the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

DIVERSITY IS OUR PRIORITY

SECOND EFFORT

Archie Griffin stands alone for winning back-to-back Heisman Trophies. Yet his devotion to team excellence, rather than individual performance, was as noteworthy as his running during his magical 1974 and 1975 Heisman Trophy-winning seasons.

"That trophy is a team honor," Griffin once said. "They (his teammates) all earned it. It just has my name on it."

Thanks to the diverse talents of Buckeye teammates such as quarterback and team MVP Cornelius Greene, fullback Pete Johnson, All-America offensive guard Ted Smith, and stellar tackles Scott Dannelley and Chris Ward, Griffin raced toward a second Heisman, while the Buckeyes raced to the top of the polls.

From his first game as a freshman Ohio State fans knew there was something special about this halfback from Columbus with the powerful internal drive.

On Sept. 30, 1972, the first year the NCAA allowed freshmen eligibility for varsity football, Griffin entered the game against North Carolina midway through the first quarter. When the final gun sounded, the Buckeye halfback, who had attended his first college class just three days earlier, held the new Ohio State single-game rushing record with 239 yards! An extraordinary career had been launched.

The next season, Griffin served notice to the Heisman voters by rushing for 1,428 regular-season yards and becoming the first sophomore in half a century to be honored as the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player. He was instrumental in the Buckeyes' 10-0-1 record and No. 2 final ranking, and finished fifth in Heisman balloting.

Rushing for a school and Big Ten-record 1,620 yards in his junior season with an astounding 6.8 yards-per-carry average, Griffin won over the Heisman voters. They awarded him 1,920 points to runner-up USC tailback Anthony Davis's 819.

By becoming only the fifth junior ever to win the Heisman, Griffin felt the pressure to become the first to repeat. Army's Doc Blanchard (1945), SMU's Doak Walker (1948), Ohio State's Vic Janowicz (1950), and Navy's Roger Staubach (1963) all won the award their junior years, but failed to repeat when injuries slowed each of them to varying degrees their senior seasons.

The challenge to stay healthy would be Griffin's greatest, as opposing teams keyed on him in 1975. Although the targeted halfback wore lineman's thigh pads to protect his legs, he usually was so battered following games that he couldn't practice until Wednesdays.

Two West Coast running backs, California's Chuck Muncie and USC's Ricky Bell, would provide competition for Griffin in his quest for a second Heisman. But Griffin's priorities resided first and foremost with the team. Prior to the start of the '75 season, he commented he would gladly give up all of his individual awards, including the Heisman, to be on a national champion.

Griffin helped propel Ohio State to an 11-0 record and No. 1 national ranking entering the Rose Bowl. Although his individual statistics had fallen off somewhat—1,357 yards rushing, sixth-best in the nation—his numbers were impressive given his injuries and status as a marked man.

Meanwhile, Muncie battled Bell for attention within the Pac-8 as well as on the national landscape. Muncie revitalized a dormant Cal program, igniting the team to an 8-3 record and No. 14 ranking, rushing for a school-record 1,460 yards and 13 touchdowns, catching 39 passes for 392 yards and two touchdowns, and completing three of three pass attempts for 143 yards and two touchdowns!

Bell, meanwhile, continued the tradition of excellent USC tailbacks. He led the country in rushing with 1,875 yards (170.5 yards per game), while averaging nearly 33 carries a game, while rushing for at least 190 yards on five occasions during the team's 7-4 season.

Voters were obviously moved by Griffin's pivotal role in the No. 1 Buckeyes' success, which culminated in a Big Ten title and Ohio State's fourth consecutive Rose Bowl appearance.

Griffin captured 1,800 points, easily beating Muncie (730), Bell (708), and Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett (616). He became the first college player to rush for more than 5,000 yards in a career (5,177, fifth all-time), accumulate more than 6,000 all-purpose yards (6,003), and record 100-yard rushing in 31 consecutive regular-season games.

The more than 800,000 men and women of the U.S. Postal Service bring the same strength through diversity of talent to the workplace that Archie Griffin brought to the '75 Buckeyes. By embracing and celebrating the many cultures represented within the Postal Service, the organization strengthens itself through unparalleled opportunity for personal and professional development. ■

Our team's #1 strength: Diversity. Fly Like an Eagle.™

In football, team players come in all shapes, sizes and colors. At the U.S. Postal Service, they do too.

So this year, when Priority Mail® was selected to deliver the ballots for the Heisman Trophy, we came together once again.

While the Heisman celebrates diversity among college athletes, we celebrate diversity among people. Which is why our employees are encouraged to express their own thoughts and ideas. No matter who they are.

That's the kind of spirit that inspires us. And makes the USPS a great team, too.

1971 National Champions

Devaney Leads Huskers to Back-to-Back Titles

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 First-Team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (November 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Mildren pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers—as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press pre-season rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971, before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions

Huskers Rally for First National Title Under Osborne

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

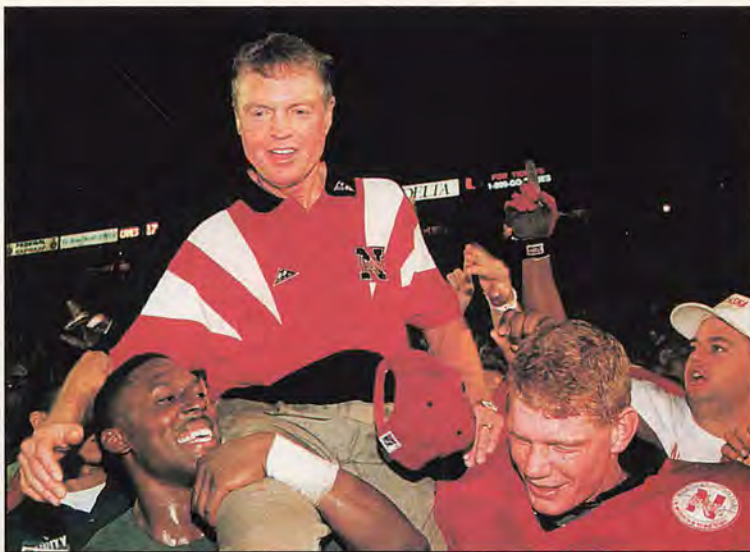

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus First-Team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Coach Osborne receives a victory hoist from Jon Vedral and Kareem Moss after the Huskers defeated Miami in the Orange Bowl for Osborne's first national title.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight First Team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

Frazier Leads Cornhuskers to Back-to-Back Perfect Seasons

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion—something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Quarterback Tommie Frazier directed Nebraska to a second straight national title, capped by a spectacular Fiesta Bowl performance.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the placekicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points—a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

Osborne Era Ends With Third National Title in Four Years

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early-morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN—the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said—that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be...I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee. "I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991. Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in early November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense.

Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation and second on NU's all-time singles season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

I-back Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl.

The University of Nebraska

Building on a Tradition of Excellence

The Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, under construction north of the Nebraska Union, will provide a high-tech living and learning environment as home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The program prepares graduates to use computing foundations, information technology, and business principles to meet the challenges of industry in the 21st century.

For nearly 130 years, the University of Nebraska has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system and its principal doctoral degree-granting institution. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the University also is committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach and extended education programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the University system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The University is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the Association of American Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the University's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and University alumnus.

The University reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Matt Baldwin and Aaron Havlovic

Husker Senior Linemen Work Hard On and Off the Field

Matt Baldwin

By Tanya Wright

Although his football career hasn't gone the way he expected when he first came to Nebraska five years ago, senior Matt Baldwin said he has no regrets. The backup center from Arvada, Colo., has not played as much as he had hoped, but he hasn't let it discourage him.

"Things haven't turned out the way I envisioned when I came here," he said. "I haven't played a lot of minutes or anything like that, but I haven't given up. I feel proud about the fact that I work hard, and I think that if there's one thing that I bring (to the team), it is that example of hard work."

Offensive Line coach Milt Tenopir said although Baldwin hasn't played many significant minutes on the field, he is still a valuable team member.

"Matt has been around here for a long time," Tenopir said. "He probably has not played as much as he'd like to, but he has been a valuable person for us because of his knowledge of the game. From a mental standpoint, he is a very solid player who does not make many mistakes."

Baldwin, who has backed up Josh Heskew and Dominic Raiola during his Husker career, has extended his work ethic to the classroom. He graduated last August, just four years after coming to Nebraska, with a degree in communications studies and a minor in psychology. But it wasn't easy.

"There were some rough times," Baldwin said. "There were some times when I wasn't sure if I was doing the right thing. But the academic support staff, my family and my friends all sort of pushed me through it and made me realize that I just needed to give that extra push to get done."

One member of the academic support staff who has helped Baldwin through some of the tough times was Keith Zimmer, Associate Director of Academic Program. Zimmer said he has seen Baldwin mature throughout his college career. Baldwin regularly attends career workshops and takes advantage of the opportunities afforded him to plan for his future. That's something that impressed Zimmer.

"That shows that Matt really has things in perspective," Zimmer said. "Even though I'm sure Nebraska football has meant a great deal to him, he has the big picture in place. I have no doubt that he'll go on and be successful in his chosen career."

Baldwin didn't set out to graduate before he was finished with football.

"It wasn't my goal at first," he said. "My goal was definitely to graduate. I knew that if there was one thing I wanted to do here, it didn't matter if I played or anything like that, but the one thing I wanted to walk away with was a degree."

Tenopir said Baldwin has always emphasized academics.

"He has always been a good student and has worked hard at that," Tenopir said. "He came in here with a purpose in mind to get his degree. It is very commendable that he has already done that before his playing days are over."

Baldwin will wrap up his football career with a mature outlook on life.

"I realize things aren't always going to go your way in life," he said. "That's when you've got to look to something else to make sure that you're going to be happy. That's a big reason why I decided to go after graduating as soon as I did. I realized that my football career wasn't going to go as long as some people's would. I accepted that. It may have been hard at first, but I'm happy with it now. What I look forward to now is just being successful in life. Football is just a game."

Aaron Havlovic

By Tanya Wright

As a senior at David City Aquinas, Aaron Havlovic thought his football career was coming to an end. He always knew he would attend the University of Nebraska, but what he didn't know entering his final year of high school, was that he would be given the chance to walk on to one of the most prominent football programs in the country.

The center from Osceola grew up with Husker football. It was a part of life in the small farming community where families faithfully followed the Big Red.

"It's almost religious in a sense," he said of his home town and Nebraska football. "You always had the game on, and if you couldn't watch the game, you listened to it on the radio."

Although he earned first-team all-state honors at center and defensive tackle for the two-time Class C champion Monarchs, Havlovic never envisioned playing for Nebraska. He didn't think he was fast enough. And at 215 pounds, he certainly didn't think he was big enough.

Despite his initial uncertainty, he jumped at the opportunity to wear the scarlet and cream. Although enthusiastic about the chance, he was also a little scared.

"You see (Nebraska) on TV and it's like, 'God I don't want to get destroyed and beat up by those kind of people.' But then you're also enthused, because you know you have the chance to play against them every day in practice."

Havlovic has not seen much game action in his career, playing in just six games, but according to Offensive Line coach Milt Tenopir, he plays a vital role.

"Aaron has been a backup type of a player, but he has stuck it out and preserved," Tenopir said. "A lot of guys in his role would have hung it up, but Aaron saw the value of being a part of a team and a member of this program. We are glad he is out there."

Now in his fifth and final year as a Husker, Havlovic said he's still not sure he fully understands the scope of what he has accomplished.

"Right now it's still not hitting me, because it's the middle of the season, and you don't have time to think about that kind of stuff," he said. "But I think it's just going to become more apparent - the magnitude of what I'm doing right now - down the road. When you're playing football, you don't think that you're a University of Nebraska football player. In five years it's going to be like, 'Wow, I played for Nebraska.'"

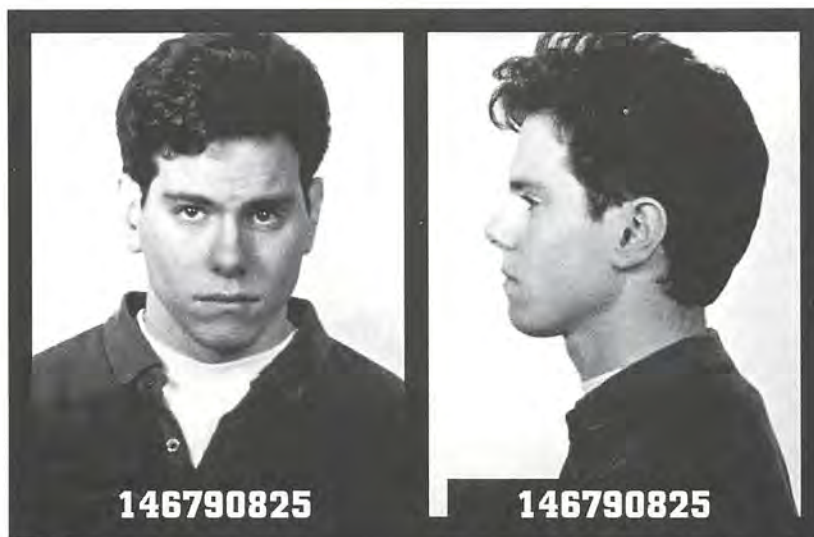

What's special about Havlovic is not the fact that he walked on at Nebraska or that he stuck it out for five years. What makes Havlovic unique is that he is not only a student and a member of the football team, but he also works 10-15 hours a week at the Nebraska Tractor Testing Lab on East campus. In fact, he's been working part-time since his sophomore year.

"I would have been bored if I didn't have a job," Havlovic said. "Sure, there are times I'm rushed. Everybody runs out of time and wishes they had more time. And there are times when I wish I didn't have a job. But I think it's a very good experience being able to juggle all that stuff. I'll always look back on the kind of education I got, as a football player, as a student and as a student worker."

While he's not quite sure how he'll react when he suits up for the final time, Havlovic realizes although his football career will be over, his life is just getting started.

"I've extended my football playing career, I believe as far as I could have possibly done. So now I'll have to grow up, get a job and live the rest of my life with the memories."

Some Hangovers Last Forever.

If you think drinking can only mess you up for a night, think again. Drinking can open the door to all kinds of violence. And if you drink and drive, you can hurt or kill someone—even yourself. Of course, you know all that. What may be news to you is that a conviction for drinking and driving or alcohol-related violence can ruin your chances of getting a job—now and long after you graduate. Isn't that a heavy price to pay for a night on the town?

You're not as cool as you think when you drink.

University of Nebraska N-Club

An Organization for All Former Student-Athletes

The University of Nebraska Alumni N Club, a group of all past Cornhusker letterwinners from all sports, heads into the 1999-2000 academic year as an active group of former student-athletes.

Pre-game gatherings at Memorial Stadium for N Club members will highlight the football season. All former University of Nebraska-Lincoln letterwinners are eligible for N Club activities and are urged to "come-a-running" for good times in 1999-2000 and future years. Annual dues are $25.

Officers of the N Club are Steve Glenn, president; R.C. "Moon" Mullen, president emeritus; Al Larson, vice president; Rick Schwieger, treasurer; and Stephanie Bolli, secretary. Board members are Henry Buchanan, Pat DiBiase, Don Erway, Cletus Fischer, Mark Forster, Charles Greene, McGraw Milhaven, Denny Morrison, Tom Ruud, Kathy Wieskamp, Charles Wright and Bus Whitehead.

Husker Women's Basketball Preview

Nebraska Out to Make Some Noise in NCAA Tournament

By Jeff Griesch

Nebraska Coach Paul Sanderford knows the importance of senior leadership.

After leading 14 teams to the NCAA Tournament, three teams to the Final Four and one to the NCAA championship game, the third-year Husker coach said all of his most successful teams have had one common bond.

"I have never coached a great team that didn't have great senior leaders," Sanderford said. "The group of seniors we have this year has a chance to rank among some of the best that I have ever coached."

Led by All-American Nicole Kubik and third-team All-Big 12 honoree Brooke Schwartz, the Huskers' five-player senior class could provide Nebraska with one of the most talented, hard working and experienced lineups in the powerful Big 12 Conference.

Forward/center Charlie Rogers, forward Naciska Gilmore and forward Monique Whitfield join Kubik and Schwartz in a senior class that has the potential to be the best in Nebraska history.

"These seniors have played in two straight NCAA Tournaments," Sanderford said. "They have played with their backs to the wall. They have played in my system for two years. We have been a pretty good team for two years, but I'm hoping that this team can be better than pretty good."

Kubik, a senior guard from Cambridge, Neb., is not only the top returning scorer in the Big 12 this season after averaging 19.8 points per game a year ago, she was also named the National Defensive Player of the Year by the Women's Basketball News Service. Kubik led the nation with 136 total steals in 1998-99, setting a Nebraska single-season record while also establishing the Husker all time mark with 310 career steals.

While she sits atop Nebraska's defensive charts, she also has a chance to challenge for the school's scoring crown. She enters the season ranked eighth all-time at Nebraska with 1,329 career points.

Along with her scoring and thievery, Kubik also led the Huskers with 5.6 assists per game in 1998-99, and has a chance to challenge for the Nebraska career mark held by Meggan Yedsena.

While Kubik has captured national attention, Schwartz has been putting together one of the finest careers in Nebraska history. The senior guard from Gering, Neb., could become the 19th player in Husker history to score 1,000 points. Schwartz enters the season with 841 career points after averaging 13.2 points per game in 1998-99.

She also has a chance to rank among the school's top 10 list in steals, assists and rebounds, after ranking among the top 20 players in the conference in all four statistical categories a year ago.

"With two senior guards like Brooke and Nicole, who have been through the battles, we have two very good players who know what it takes to be successful, and that is a big part of having a successful basketball team."

Along with two experienced leaders in the backcourt, the Huskers have a pair of seniors in the frontcourt that will be crucial to Nebraska's success this season.

Charlie Rogers will try to cap a solid Husker career with her best season in 1999-2000. The 6-2 forward/center from South Sioux City, Neb., has been slowed by foot injuries in each of her first three seasons at Nebraska, but enters her final season as healthy as she has ever been.

Rogers is also coming off the best summer of her career, which included six strong performances during Nebraska's two-week trek through Europe. Rogers averaged a double-double in points and rebounds over the six-game trip, and her success has the coaching staff expecting larger contributions than her 7.4 points and 4.5 rebounds as a junior.

"Charlie Rogers may have been our best player in Europe," Sanderford said. "She looked like the old Chuck, and you could see her gain confidence with each game. She has kept that confidence throughout the fall, and I think she finally realizes how good she can be."

Monique Whitfield made the trip to Europe but was unable to compete after suffering a torn anterior cruciate ligament in her right knee during a pickup game on July 7. Her injury will keep her out of action until at least December, but the coaching staff is hoping that she can return to full speed for Nebraska's conference season.

Whitfield, a 6-1 forward from Long Beach, Calif., averaged 5.6 points and 3.4 rebounds in her first season with the Huskers after leading Central Arizona to the 1998 National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) national championship.

The loss of Whitfield will give Naciska Gilmore an even larger role in Nebraska's attack, and Gilmore proved that she was ready to make the most of the opportunity with a strong showing in Europe. The 6-0 forward from Tulsa, Okla., averaged 10 points and eight rebounds during Nebraska's six games in France, Switzerland and Italy, after averaging 4.9 points and 3.9 rebounds in 1998-99.

Gilmore could see time in Nebraska's starting lineup or provide a spark off the bench.

Along with featuring one of the best senior classes in the Big 12, the Huskers will be bolstered by a pair of juniors who could make waves in the conference this season.

Amanda Went might be Nebraska's most improved player since the close of the 1998-99 season. The 5-9 junior guard from Columbus, Neb., was Nebraska's most consistent 3-point threat last season, connecting on 36.3 percent (33-91) of her 3-point attempts. She also took care of the ball better than any Husker guard, producing one of NU's best assist-to-turnover ratios.

Overall, Went averaged 5.7 points and 1.9 rebounds, while scoring in double figures on six different occasions.

After playing the role of Nebraska's top reserve guard in a two-guard, two-forward, one-center starting rotation as a sophomore, Went performed superbly as a starter during Nebraska's summer trip to Europe. In six games, she averaged 13 points, 4.5 rebounds and 4.3 assists, while knocking down nine 3-pointers.

The ability of Went, Schwartz and Kubik to knock down 3-pointers with more consistency could help make Sanderford's desire to turn the Huskers into one of the most up-tempo and highest scoring teams in the nation a reality.

Another key figure in Nebraska's ability to run could be junior Casey Leonhardt. The 6-5 center from Downers Grove, Ill., is scheduled to make her Nebraska debut this season. Leonhardt redshirted with the Huskers in 1998-99 after transferring from the University of Illinois.

As a sophomore with the Illini, Leonhardt averaged 6.6 points, 4.8 rebounds and 1.7 blocked shots per game. In two seasons at Illinois, Leonhardt posted 88 blocks, which is the same career total as Husker senior Charlie Rogers has produced in three years, and Rogers' total ranks fourth on Nebraska's all-time list.

Guard Nicole Kubik earned pre-season All-America accolades after leading the nation with 136 steals in 1998-99.

"Casey gives us that big, physical rebounder who can start the break with an outlet pass and then fill the lane," Sanderford said. "She also gives us that dominant shot-blocking ability you need at the back of the press. She has been out of a competitive, game environment for more than a year, so she will have to make that adjustment, but we saw what she can do in Europe this summer."

Leonhardt nearly averaged a double-double in points and rebounds during Nebraska's six-game trip to Europe, posting 14.3 points, 9.5 rebounds and 2.8 blocked shots per game.

Sanderford's efforts to turn up the tempo at the Bob Devaney Sports Center will also get a boost from an athletic and competitive recruiting class that includes consensus high school All-American Stephanie Jones from Omaha Benson, Kansas City metro area player-of-the-year Shahidrah Roberts, Nevada all-stater Paige Sutton and Nebraska all-stater Isha Kelley.

The addition of the four freshmen and the continued development of sophomores Jennifer Jaracz and Karsen Muller, will give the Huskers their most athletic and deepest lineup in Sanderford's brief tenure.

"This team will more reflect the way I want to play, than any team that we have had here so far," Sanderford said. "I think we have added some quickness, and I think our kids are more accustomed to playing up-tempo basketball. With the addition of the freshmen, I think the competitiveness in practice is going to increase because everyone is going to have to earn their time on the floor this year."

Stephanie Jones, a 6-2 forward from Omaha, comes to Lincoln after becoming the first high school player from the state of Nebraska ever invited to the Nike/WBCA Girls All-Star Classic during the summer of 1999. Jones made the most of the invitation by scoring 14 points, while competing against the nation's best prep players.

At Omaha Benson, Jones earned All-America honors from Street and Smith, Parade Magazine and USA Today. She was also named the Nebraska high school player of the year by USA Today, the Omaha World-Herald and the Lincoln Journal Star. She averaged 19.7 points and 11.9 rebounds as a senior, while becoming the first player in Benson High School history to reach the 1,000-point mark.

Although Jones has drawn the most national attention, Nebraska's other freshmen have been impressing Sanderford and the coaching staff.

Shahidrah Roberts and Isha Kelley both posted eye-popping preseason Performance Testing results with their quickness, agility and leaping ability, while Paige Sutton might have the most complete offensive and shooting skills of the group.

Roberts earned Miss Basketball honors in the state of Kansas in 1999, after averaging 14.0 points six rebounds and five steals per game to help Blue Valley North to a second-place finish in Class 6A.

Like Roberts, Kelley will bring tremendous quickness and athleticism to the court for the Huskers as a freshman. The 5-7 guard from Lincoln Southeast High School broke the Husker record in the 10-yard dash the first time she ever took the test in August, which leads Sanderford to believe that she can help immediately in Nebraska's running game.

Kelley averaged 11.5 points, 5.7 rebounds and five steals while leading Class A with 6.6 assists per game as a senior at Lincoln Southeast in 1998-99. She was a second-team All-Class A pick and a third-team Super-State selection.

While Kelley's main contribution might be on defense, Paige Sutton's strength is on offense. Sutton earned honorable-mention Nevada High School Player-of-the-Year honors from USA Today after leading Bishop Gorman to a state runner-up finish by averaging 24 points and 13.5 rebounds per game.

The 6-2 center, who is originally from San Diego, Calif., and was a two-year starter at Santana High School, was a two-time All-Nevada selection and scored more than 1,000 points in just her final two seasons at Bishop Gorman High School in Las Vegas.

Along with her inside play, Sutton is a strong rebounder, passer and outside shooter.

Amanda Buchholz could also help the Huskers in her first year at Nebraska. Buchholz enjoyed an outstanding prep career at Ogallala (Neb.) High School, leading the Indians to the 1999 Class B state championship over national power South Sioux City.

The 5-7 guard led Class B by averaging 21.7 points, 7.6 steals, while hitting 47.9 percent of her 3-point attempts throughout the season.

Ogallala finished the year ranked No. 24 by USA Today with an undefeated season, and Buchholz was named the captain of the Class B All-State teams by the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star.

With the Nebraska women's basketball program's success over the past two seasons, the Huskers have been ranked for a total of 27 weeks in The Associated Press or USA Today/ESPN Coaches Top 25, climbing as high as No. 11 in 1997-98 and No. 16 in 1998-99.

The Huskers' winning ways have helped raise the level of expectations from not only inside the program, but around the nation.

Nebraska has earned spots in several preseason top 25 polls, including a No. 19 ranking from the Women's Basketball News Service which is comprised of voters from the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, the United States Basketball Writers Association and the Metro Conference Sports Writers Association. Nebraska also claimed the No. 23 ranking in Lindy's preseason top 25.

Sanderford welcomes the increased exposure and recognition that the Huskers have gained, but he knows that in order to keep the expectations rising, the Huskers need to keep proving themselves on the court.

"I think this year's basketball team is a top 20 basketball team. We have enough experience, enough scoring, enough rebounding, enough size and enough quickness. As long as we win, we will deserve to be in the top 20."

Nebraska's rising expectations have helped the Huskers attain continually improving exposure for women's basketball.

The Huskers are scheduled to play a school record 14 games on television in 1999-2000, including a showdown with Big 12 rival Kansas on ESPN2 on Feb. 13, and five games on FOX Sports Net as part of the Big 12 Conference's extensive television package.

Seven other Husker games are scheduled to be broadcast live or tape delayed on the Nebraska Educational Television Network and EduCable, while the Huskers' game with Creighton will be carried live by KOLN/KGIN channels 10/11 in Lincoln on Dec. 12 at 1 p.m.

Along with the increasing television audiences, Nebraska will also try to improve on its school record attendance mark of 5,000 fans per game in 1998-99, which ranked 15th nationally.

Husker fans will also get to enjoy the more than $7.9 million in renovations at the Bob Devaney Sports Center that include two HuskerVision replay boards, a digital message center, hustle stat boards, new sound and lighting systems, and increased chairback and disabled seating in the main arena.

The Devaney Center Improvement Project also includes extensive renovations to the concourse areas with the additions of a Husker Hall of Honor and Husker Walk of Fame. A timeline placing Nebraska sports in history and memorabilia and trophy displays will also help make the game-day atmosphere at the Devaney Center one of the best in the nation.

Senior guard Brooke Schwartz averaged 13.2 points per game last season.

Hire a Husker Program

Helping NU Student-Athletes During the Summer

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. During the summer, players make tremendous gains physically and the "team chemistry" starts to come together. In order to work out in Lincoln each summer, most players need some help financially. Huskers also realize that everything they do as student-athletes in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them throughout life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day, which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Program Important?

Because of NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that are allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. These athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to offset registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams of becoming a Husker come true.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board and books and fees. However, all other personal expenses, such as return home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

Who to Contact About the Student-Athlete Employment Program

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coach Turner Gill and Coach Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Assistant Compliance Director for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed before beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

For more information regarding NCAA rules on student-athlete employment, please contact the University of Nebraska Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042.

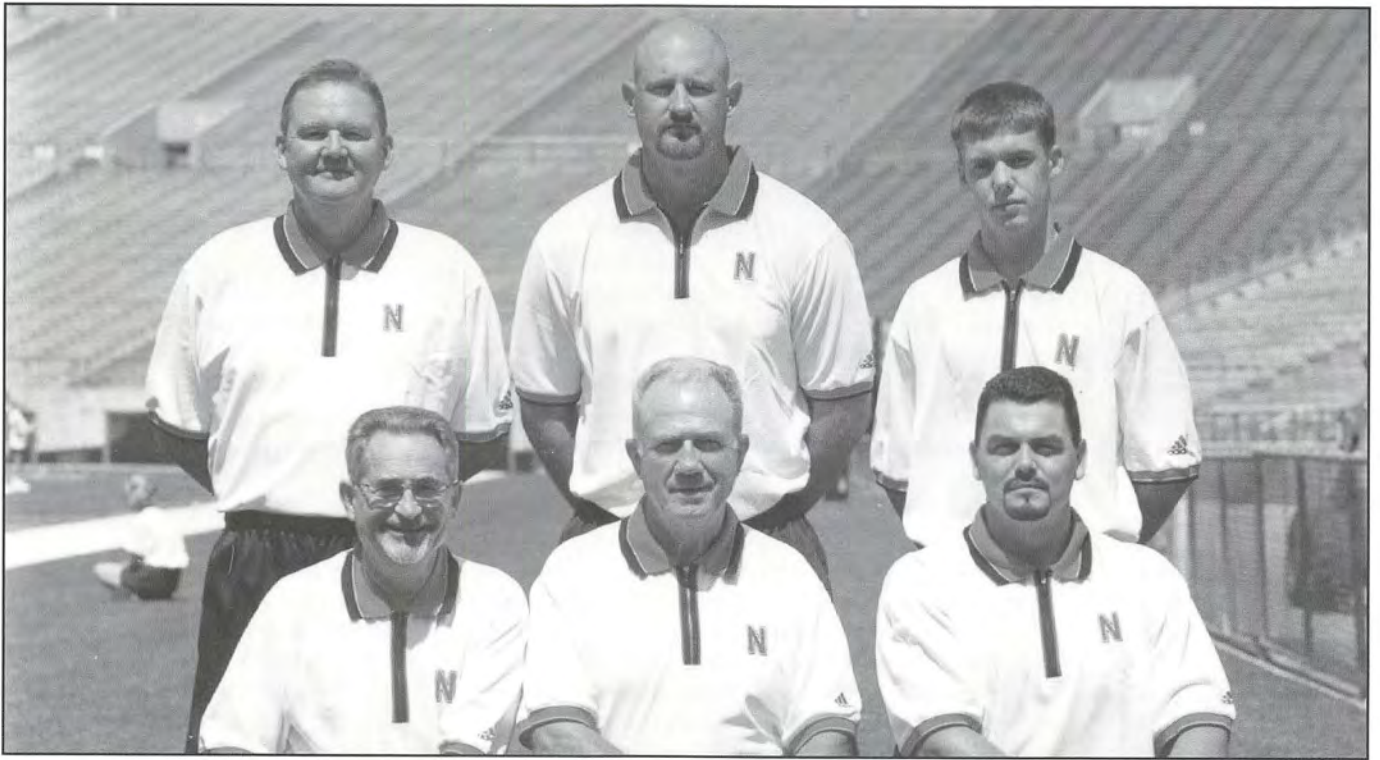

Dan Alexander was one of the Nebraska football players who participated in the "Hire a Husker" program last summer.

1999 Husker Employment Sponsors

Although the following listing may not adequately thank all of the individuals and businesses who have helped out the Husker work program over the years, the NU athletic department thanks these businesses for their support by allowing Husker student-athletes to gain valuable on-the-job experience. If your name or business was inadvertently omitted, we apologize. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

Masters Week 1999

Distinguished Alumni Bring Expertise, Experience to Campus

By Tom Simons, Public Relations

Five distinguished University of Nebraska-Lincoln alumni were on campus Nov. 3-5 for Masters Week, an annual event that honors successful NU graduates. This year's Masters are U.S. Rep. Doug Bereuter (R-Neb.), Maj. Gen. Claude Bolton Jr., Norma Cantu, Jeanette Hasse and Abbas Mohaddes.

Masters Week was founded in 1964 by Chancellor Clifford Hardin. The program brings successful alumni into contact with students through class visitations, campus tours and meetings with clubs and organizations. Masters are nominated by NU faculty and selected by a committee appointed by the chancellor. Masters Week is sponsored by the chancellor's office, the Student Alumni Association, Innocents Society and the Black Masque Chapter of Mortar Board.

After four years in the Nebraska Legislature, Bereuter was elected to Congress in 1978 from Nebraska's 1st District and has been re-elected 10 times. He was director of the Nebraska State Office of Planning and Programming from 1968-1970 and a division chief in the state Department of Economic Development from 1967-1968 under Gov. Norbert Tiemann. He brings broad experience to his current position as a businessman, veteran, college educator and urban planner. He is the author of significant legislation on trade, water development, agriculture, health, business, housing, American Indian and international hunger and child welfare. He has taken an active role in promoting American exports, especially agricultural exports. A 1986 publication listed Bereuter as one of 75 "Trade Warriors" in the Congress — members whose expertise and influence on trade policy place them in leadership positions. Originally from Utica, he earned a bachelor's degree in geography at NU (1961) and master's degrees in city planning (1963) and public administration (1973) at Harvard University.

Bolton is program executive officer for fighter and bomber programs, Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Acquisitions at U.S. Air Force headquarters in Washington, D.C. He is responsible for all acquisition activities on the F-22, F-15, F-16, F-117, B-1 and B-2 programs, the Common Missile Warning System and the Joint Helmet Mounted Cueing System programs. He graduated from NU in 1969 with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and received his commission through NU's Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program, and was honored as a distinguished graduate. Bolton went on to graduate from Squadron Officer School, earned a master's degree in management from Troy State University, corresponded through Air Command and Staff College, and earned a master's degree in national security and strategic studies at the Naval War College in Newport, R.I. The South Sioux City native is a command pilot with more than 2,700 flying hours in more than 30 different aircraft. During the Vietnam War, he flew 232 combat missions. Bolton said he believes education serves as a key factor to success and gives great credit to his parents, his family, the U.S. Air Force, and to NU.

Cantu is a professor of English in the department of language, literature and arts at Texas A&M International University in Laredo, Texas, where she has been from 1980 to 1993 and from 1995 to present. From 1993 to 1995, she was senior arts specialist at the National Endowment for the Arts, Folk and Traditional Arts Program in Washington, D.C. She recently returned to her duties at Texas A&M after a leave to be acting director of the Center for Chicano Studies at the University of California at Santa Barbara. Cantu earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Texas A&I University in Laredo and Kingsville and earned her Ph.D. in English at Nebraska (1982). In 1997, she was recognized by the NU College of Arts and Sciences with an Outstanding Alumni Achievement Award. Cantu's scholarly interests and expertise include folklore, Chicano literature, borderland studies, literary criticism, women's studies, and 20th century American literature. Her most recent work, forthcoming from the Texas A & M University Press, is a study of the Matachines de la Santa Cruz, a religious dance tradition in Laredo. Her novel, "Canicula: Snapshots of a Girlhood en la Frontera" received the Premio Aztlan prize in 1996. She is completing a second novel, "Hair Matters."

Hasse is transplant nutrition specialist at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. The Gordon native created the first full-time liver transplant dietitian position in the United States in 1987 and is co-editing a book due out in 1999 that will be the definitive manual on nutrition for adult and pediatric transplantation. In addition to the more than 90 professional presentations she has given at the local, state and national levels, Hasse teaches classes for dietetic interns, frequently lectures to universities and has written more than 40 journal articles, book chapters, books, and magazines. Since 1985, she has worked with more than 1,400 liver transplant recipients and 500 recipients of other organs. She graduated with high distinction from NU in 1983 with a bachelor's degree in human nutrition and food service management. In 1984, she interned at Baylor University Medical Center and one year later returned to academics to earn a master's degree in nutrition while continuing to work full-time. In 1990, Hasse again returned to Texas Woman's University to earn her doctorate degree in nutrition. Throughout Hasse's career and research, her goal has been to make transplant clinicians aware of the important role nutrition plays in the recovery and well-being of transplant patients.
